ROLE OF BANKS IN EMPLOYMENT GENERATION

Anil Sharma

Commercial banks and more specifically public sector banks are playing an important role in employment generation in the country. Government of India has been implementing some of its important policies for employment generation, both in rural and urban population, with the help of banks.

For example, Prime Minister's Employment Generation Programme (PMEGP), a credit linked subsidy program is being implemented by Ministry of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises through Khadi and Village Industries Commission (KVIC) at the national level and by KVIC directorates, Khadi and Village Industries Board and District Industries Centers at the State level. It aims at generating self-employment opportunities through establishment of micro enterprises by organizing traditional artisans and unemployed youth. The Government subsidy under the scheme is being distributed to the beneficiaries/entrepreneurs through identified banks.

Similarly, Swarnjayanti Gram Swarajgar Yojana

(SGSY), a major program for self-employment for the rural poor is being implemented by the District Rural Development Agencies (DRDAs) with the active involvement of Panchayati Raj Institutions and Banks by providing them income-generating assets through a mix of bank credit and governmental subsidy.

Micro Units Development and Refinance Agency Ltd (MUDRA) is engaged in extending financial assistance to micro enterprises. MUDRA provides support for inclusive finance through refinance to primary lending institutions, financing income generating micro enterprises loan upto Rs 10 Lakh under Pradhan Mantri Mudra Yojana (PMMY) and overdraft amount of Rs 5000/- sanctioned under Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY). As on 31.3.2017, MUDRA has partnered with 27 PSBs, 18 Private Sector Banks, 31 RRBs, 13 State/Urban Cooperative banks and 73 MFIs and 31 NBFCs and has refinanced an amount of Rs. 3,525.94 crores in 2016-17 as compared to Rs. 3,783.20 crores in 2015-16.

Agriculture sector provides the maximum employment in the country and micro, small and medium sector is the second most employment generating sector. Commercial banks have played a key role of providing finances to both these sectors

IAS (MAINS) 2018: HOW TO IMPROVE WRITING STYLE

S.B. Singh

Every year, UPSC conducts IAS main exam around this time (i.e., September- October) consisting of an optional paper, four GS Papers, an Essay Paper and the language test. Given the huge syllabus and diverse areas of topics, the main examination is truly the "mother of IAS Examination." It requires a well strategised, advance preparation spanning months before the real commencement of the UPSC Exam. Among the three levels of the exam viz; prelims, mains and the interview, it is the mains exam that holds the clue to your real rank, cadre allotment and choice of service because it accounts for the bulk of marks i.e. 1750 marks out of a total of 2025 marks which combines both mains and interview marks. Thus, it goes without saying that the mains is the determining factor in your success and your rank and cadre allotment.

Needless to say then that utmost importance should be attached to this segment of the exam with a careful thought and a winning strategy. The two important skills tested in the mains exam are:

1. Cognitive skill: Cognitive skill is a process of acquiring knowledge and understanding through thought, experience and sense. It is not important just to acquire knowledge but also to make sense of it in the given context. The first step to gain cognitive skill is to access knowledge through a variety of sources comprising text books, reference books, journals, newspapers etc. The second step is to hone the skill of making sense of the acquired knowledge. In other words, the acquired knowledge is not to be reproduced as it exists, but recrafted and rehashed to make sense to a particular question asked. So the cognitive skill will put to test both your raw intelligence as well as your refined intelligence.

How to develop Cognitive skills? An aspirant is usually advised to depend on few popular books on each subject which are easily available in the market. No doubt these books are necessary as they contain the basic information. But just confining yourself to just these few books will put you in the narrow lanes of preparation. What you really need to do is to access a wider path, a highway of preparations. For this, you need many more sources to be consulted. To cite an example, one may read a basic book on history by Bipan Chandra. But it will not provide a complete perspective on modern Indian History. One must also read books like Discovery of India by Nehru, which provides beautiful insights into Indian history, culture etc. The current format of the main exam, is quite different

English rendering of PM's address in 47th episode of Mann Ki Baat on 26.08.2018

My dear countrymen, Namaskar. Today, the entire country is celebrating Rakshabandhan. Heartiest greetings to all fellow citizens on this auspicious occasion. The festival of Rakshabandhan symbolizes the bond of love and trust between a brother and a sister. For centuries, this festival has proved to be a shining example of social harmony. In the nation's history, there are innumerable accounts of this sacred thread, binding together people of distant lands, different religions, around a spindle of trust. In a few days from now, we shall celebrate the festive occasion of Janmashtami. The whole atmosphere will reverberate to the sonorous chants & calls of 'Hathi, Ghoda, Palki', 'Jai Kanhaiya Lalki' and 'Govinda-Govinda'. It is indeed an extremely joyous experience to imbue the essence of Bhagwan Krishna & revel blissfully. In other parts of the country, especially Maharashtra, our young friends must be busy with preparations of the 'Dahi-Handi'.... the festive ritual of the human pyramid breaking the curd filled earthen pot. Heartiest greetings to all countrymen on the festive occasions of Rakshabandhan and Janmashtami.

Bhagini Chinmayee, भवती संस्कृत प्रश्न पृष्ठवती। Sister Chinmayee has asked a question in Sanskrit. Excellent, extraordinary. My salutations to you. On the occasion of Sanskrit week, I extend my best wishes to all countrymen.

I am extremely thankful to young Chinmayee for touching upon this subject. Friends, apart from Rakshabandhan, Shravan Poornima is also celebrated as Sanskrit Day.

I congratulate all those actively involved in preserving and conserving this glorious heritage, helping it to reach out to the masses. Every language has its own significance, sanctity. India takes great pride in the fact that Tamil is the most ancient of world languages. We Indians also feel proud that from Vedic times to the modern day, Sanskrit language has played a stellar role in the universal spread of knowledge.

Sanskrit language & literature encompasses a storehouse of knowledge pertaining to every facet of life. Science & technology, agriculture and health, Mathematics & Management, economy & environment, the entire spectrum has been touched upon. It is said that our Vedas have detailed reference on Mantras, onways & means to counter the challenges of global warming. You will be pleased to know that even today, residents of village Mattur in Shivamoga district of Karnataka use Sanskrit as their lingua franca.

You will be astonished to know that Sanskrit is a language that possesses the capacity for infinite word formation with two thousand verb roots, 200 suffixes and 22 prefixes; coupled with compounds, the possibility of word-creation is limitless. And that is why the minutest nuance of an expression or subject can be accurately described. This has been the core speciality of Sanskrit. Today, at times, in order to communicate more assertively, we tend to make use of English Quotations or even sher-o-shayari-urdu poetry. But those who are well acquainted with Sanskrit Subhashitas - epigrammatic verses, know very well that it is possible to make a crisp, precise statement, using very few words through the usage of subhashitas. And since there is a sense of geographical and cultural belonging, they are easy to understand and assimilate.

For example, in order to illustrate the significance of the Guru in one's life, it has been said

एकमपि अक्षरमस्तु गुरुः शिष्यं प्रबोध्येत।

प्रथिव्यां नास्ति तद द्रव्यं यद दत्त्वा ह्यनृणीभवेत्॥

Thereby meaning, when a guru imparts even an iota of knowledge to the student, there is no material or wealth on the entire earth that the student can make use of, to repay the guru. We must abide by the same essence, the same spirit as we celebrate Teachers' Day. Knowledge and the guru are incomparable, invaluable, priceless. On the occasion of Teachers' Day, we remember the great philosopher, former President of India Dr. Sarvapalli Radhakrishnanji. His birth anniversary is celebrated as Teacher' Day across the country. I felicitate all the teachers in the country on this occasion. I also salute your sense of commitment towards science, education

My dear countrymen, the monsoon comes along, bringing a new ray of hope to our toiling farmers. It provided much needed succor to the scorched trees and shrubs, and to parched water bodies; on the other hand excessive rainfall causes devastating floods. It's a vagary of Nature that some places have received higher rainfall compared to other places. We just saw how the terrible floods in Kerala have affected human lives. In today's pressing, hard times, the entire Nation is with Kerala. Our sympathies are with those families who lost their loved ones. Loss of lives cannot be compensated, but I assure the grief-stricken families that in this moment of suffering and misery, a hundred and twenty five crore Indians stand by them, shoulder to shoulder. I earnestly pray for those injured in this natural disaster to get well soon. I firmly believe that the sheer grit and courage of the people of the state will see Kerala rise again.

Disasters, unfortunately leave behind a trail of destruction. But one gets to witness facets of humanity, humaneness during disasters. From Kutch to Kamrup, from Kashmir to Kanyakumari, everyone is endeavoring to contribute in some way or the other so that wherever a disaster strikes, be it Kerala or any other part of India, human life returns to normalcy. Irrespective of age group or area of work, people are contributing. Everyone is trying to ensure speedy mitigation of the sufferings people in Kerala are going through, in fact sharing their pain. We know that jawans of our armed forces are the vanguards of rescue and relief operations in Kerala. They have left no stone unturned as saviors of those trapped in the floods. The Air Force, Navy, Army, BSF, CISF, RAF, every agency has played an exemplary role in the rescue and relief operations. I would like to specially mention the arduous endeavors of the NDRF daredevils. At this moment of hardship and agony, their service stands out as a shining example. The capability, commitment and controlling situation through rapid decisions of the NDRF have made them a cynosure of every Indian's eye, worthy of respect and admiration. Yesterday was the festival of Onam. We pray for Onam to provide strength to the country, especially Kerala so that it returns to normalcy on a newer journey of development. Once again on behalf of all Indians, I would like to reassure each & everyone in Kerala and other affected places that at this moment of calamity, the entire country stands by them.

My dear countrymen ! I was looking into the suggestions received for "Mann Ki Baat". The subject about which most of the people from across the country have written is "Our revered Atal Behari Vajpayee". Kirti from Ghaziabad, Swati Vats from Sonapat, brother Praveen from Kerala, Dr. Swapan Banerjee from West Bengal, Akhilesh Pandey from Katihar, Bihar and numerous others have written on Narendra Modi Mobile App and MyGov asking me to speak on various aspects of Atalji's life. As soon as the people in our country and abroad heard of the demise of Atalji on 16th August, everyone drowned in sadness. He was a leader who gave up his position as Prime Minister fourteen years ago. In a way, he was cut-off from active politics for the last 10 years. He was neither seen in the news nor in public life. Ten years is a huge gap but on 16th August our country and the whole world witnessed that there was not a gap of even a single moment in the commonman's heart. The wave of love and faith that spread across the nation is an indicator of his great personality. During these last days, many great aspects of Atalji came up to the fore. People remembered him as the best member of Parliament, sensitive writer, best orator and most popular

Prime Minister and will continue to remember him. The country will ever remain grateful to Atalji for bringing good governance in the main stream. But, I just want to touch upon one more facet of Atalji's legendary personality and that is the political culture which Atalji gave to India, his efforts in the direction of bringing about the changes in our political culture, his efforts to mould it into an organized framework which proved very beneficial for India and a bigger benefit will accrue in days to come. This is certain. India will remain ever grateful to Atalji for bringing the 91st Amendment Act, 2003. This change brought about two important changes in India's politics.

First one is that the size of the cabinet in states was restricted to 15% of the total seats in the state Assembly.

And the second one is that the limit under the Anti Defection Law was enhanced from one-thirds to two-thirds. Besides, clear guidelines were defined to disqualify the defector.

For many years in India, the political culture of forming a very large cabinet was being misused to constitute jumbo cabinets not only to create a divide but also to appease political leaders. Atalji changed it. This effort of his resulted in saving of money as well as of resources. This also helped in improving efficiency. It could only be a visionary like Atalji who brought in this transformation and as a result of this, healthy traditions blossomed in our polity.

Atalji was a true patriot. It was during his tenure that the timing of presenting the budget was changed. Earlier, as was the British tradition, the Budget used to be presented at 5 pm because in London, Parliament used to start working at that time. In the year 2001, Atalji changed the time of presenting the budget from 5 pm to 11 am. One more freedom-the Indian Flag Code was framed in Atalji's tenure and it came into effect in 2002. A number of such rules have been included in this code which made it possible to unfurl the tricolor in public places. This provided a chance to more and more of our countrymen to unfurl our national flag. Thus, he brought our beloved tricolor closer to the commonman. You must have noticed how Atalji took bold steps to bring about fundamental reforms, whether in our election process or about the shortcomings concerning the people's representatives. Similarly, you can see that presently efforts are afoot and discussions are being held about simultaneously holding the elections for Lok Sabha and for state assemblies.

The Government and the opposition - both are putting forth their view points. This is a good development and a healthy sign for our democracy. I must say that developing healthy traditions for a sound democracy, making constant efforts to strengthen democracy, encouraging open-minded debates would also be appropriate tribute to Atalji. Reiterating our resolve to fulfill his dream of a prosperous and developed India, I along with all of you pay tributes to Atalji.

My dear countrymen! whenever a discussion about Parliament is there nowadays, it is about hold-ups, noisy scenes and stalling the proceedings but when something good happens, it is not given much importance. The monsoon session of Parliament ended just a few days back. You will be glad to know that the productivity of Lok Sabha remained 118 percent and that of Rajya Sabha was 74 percent. All the members rose above party interests to make the Monsoon session most productive and this is why Lok Sabha passed 21 bills and in Rajya Sabha fourteen bills were passed. This Monsoon session of Parliament will always be remembered as a session for social justice and youth welfare.

A number of important bills beneficial to the youth and the backward classes were passed during this session. As you know, a demand to constitute an OBC Commission similar to SC/ST commission was long pending for decades. The country fulfilled its resolve this time to make an OBC Commission and also granted it Constitutional powers. This step will prove to be the one to move forward our march towards achieving the goal of social justice. An amendment bill to secure the rights of scheduled castes and scheduled tribes also were passed in this session. This Act will give more security to the interests of SC and ST communities. This will also forbid criminals from indulging in atrocities and will instill confidence among the dalit communities.

No civil society can tolerate any kind of injustice towards the woman-power of the country. The nation will not tolerate those committing rapes. With this point in view Parliament has made a provision of strictest punishment by passing the Criminal Act Amendment Bill. Those guilty of rape will get a minimum sentence of ten years and those found guilty of raping girls below the age of 12 years will be awarded the death sentence. Recently, you might have read in newspapers, that a court in Mandsaur in Madhya Pradesh, after a brief hearing of two months, pronounced the death sentence on two criminals found guilty of raping a minor girl. Earlier, a court in Katni in Madhya Pradesh awarded the death sentence to the guilty after a hearing of just five days. Courts in Rajasthan have also taken similar quick decisions. This Act will play an effective role in curbing crimes against women and girls. Economic growth will be incomplete without a social transfor-mation. The Triple Talaq Bill has been passed by the Lok Sabha although it could not be passed in the Rajya Sabha, I assure the Muslim women that the whole country stands by them to provide them social justice. When we move ahead in the national interest, a change in the lives of the poor, the backward, the exploited and the deprived ones can also be brought about. In the Monsoon session, this time, everyone jointly presented an ideal approach. Today, I publicly express my heartfelt gratitude to all MP's.

My dear countrymen! The attention of crores of Indians is focused on the Asian Games being held in Jakarta. Every morning, first of all, people look for newspapers, Television, News and Social Media to check Indian player swinning medals. The Asian Games are going on. I wish to congratulate all players who have won medals for the country. I extend my best wishes to those players who are yet to compete. Indian players are performing exceedingly well in shooting and wrestling but our players are winning medals in those competitions too, in which our performance has not been so good earlier-like WUSHU and ROWING. These are not just medals but an evidence of the sky high spirits of the Indian players.

Among those winning medals for our country are a large number of our daughters which is a very positive sign; so much so, that youngsters of only 15-16 years of age have brought honour to our country by winning medals. This too is a very positive indication that most of the medal-winners hail from small towns and villages and these players have achieved this success by putting in sheer hard work.

We shall celebrate National Sports Day on 29th August and I extend my best wishes to all sport lovers and also pay my tributes to the legendary hockey wizard Shri Dhyanchandji.

I request every citizen to make it a point to play and take care of their fitness because only a healthy India will build a developed and prosperous India. When India will be fit, only then India's future will be bright. Once again, I congratulate the medal winners at the Asian Games and also wish the remaining players perform well. Many good wishes to you all on the National Sports Day.

Namaste Bhawnaji, I respect your sentiments. All of us have seen houses and buildings being constructed of bricks and stones but can you imagine that about twelve hundred years ago, a giant mountain which was a single stone mountain was give the shape of an elegant, huge and a unique -temple - this may be difficult to imagine, but this happened and that temple is Kailash Nath Mandir in Ellora, Maharashtra. Would you believe if someone tells you that about a thousand years ago, an over sixty metres tall pillar of granite was built and another granite rock weighing about 80 tonnes was placed over its top. But, Brihdeswar temple of Thanjavur in Tamil Nadu is the place where this unbelievable combination of Engineering and Architecture can be seen. Anybody will feel overawed on seeing Rani Ki Vaav of the 11th Century in Patan in Gujarat. Our land has been an engineering laboratory. There have been several engineers in India who made the unimaginable possible and presented such marvels of engineering before the world. In this lineage of great engineers, we were blessed with a diamond whose work is still a source of wonder for all.He was Bharat Ratna Dr. M. Visvesvaraya. Lakhs of farmers and common people continue to benefit from the Krishna Raj Sagar Dam built by him. He is greatly revered in that part of our country and the whole nation remembers him with great respect and regard. In his memory, 15th September is observed as Engineers Day. Following his footsteps, our engineers have created their own identity in the world. When I talk of wonders in the Engineering world, I am reminded of an incident of 2001 when a devastating earthquake hit Kutch in Gujarat. I used to work as a volunteer there during those days, I got a chance to go to a village and had a chance to meet a lady of more than a hundred years of age. And she was looking at me and mockingly, saying, "Look at my house. It is called Bhoonga in Kutch.This house has faced three earthquakes. I myself have seen three in this house itself. But, you did not find any damage anywhere. These houses were built by our ancestors in sync with nature and surroundings of this place". And she was saying all this with such a feeling of pride that it made me think that engineers in that era had constructed such structures according to the local situations which kept the common man safe and secure. While observing Engineers Day, we should think of the future as well. Workshops should be held at different places. What are the things we need to learn in the changing times? What do we need to teach? What do we need to connect to? Nowadays, disaster management has assumed immense significance. The world is facing natural calamities. What then should be the new form of structural engineering? What courses should be designed to that end? What should be taught to the students? How do we keep construction eco friendly? How can we enhance the quality of construction by making value addition through local materials? How do we make zero waste our priority? All such points need to be pondered upon when we observe Engineers Day.

My dear countrymen! There is a mood of festivity and with this the preparations for Diwali also begin. We will keep meeting through Mann Ki Baat, and will keep sharing matters close to our hearts. We will join hands in taking our country forward with heartfelt vigor. With these feelings, I extend my best wishes to you all. Thanks. We shall meet.

and thus helped in generating employment. The Reserve Bank of India has set targets and sub-targets under priority sector lending for all scheduled commercial banks operating in India. 40 percent of Adjusted Net Bank Credit or Credit Equivalent Amount of Off-Balance Sheet Exposure, whichever is higher is required to be lend to the priority sector as indicated below:

- (i) 18 percent of ANBC or Credit Equivalent Amount of Off-Balance Sheet Exposure, whichever is higher, is set for Agriculture. Within the 18 percent target for agriculture, a target of 8 percent of ANBC or Credit Equivalent Amount of Off-Balance Sheet Exposure, whichever is higher is prescribed for Small and Marginal Farmers.
- (ii) 7.5 percent of ANBC or Credit Equivalent Amount of Off-Balance Sheet Exposure, whichever is higher to be achieved for Micro Enterprises.
- (iii) 10 percent of ANBC or Credit Equivalent Amount of Off-Balance Sheet Exposure, whichever is higher is to be given as Advances to Weaker Sections.

Bank credit to Micro Finance Institutions (MFIs) extended for on-lending to individuals and also to members of SHGs / JLGs is also categorised as priority sector advance under respective categories viz., Agriculture, Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises, and 'Others', as indirect finance subject to certain conditions.

*As per National Sample Survey (NSS) 73rd Round conducted during the period 2015-16.

It can be seen from the above charts that bank finance to MSE sector has played a significant role in nurturing MSEs where good employment opportunities are created.

Another effort on the part of the public sector banks for increasing employment in rural sector is their participation in Rural Self Employment Training Institutes (RSETI), an initiative of Ministry of Rural Development (MoRD) to have dedicated infrastructure in each district of the country to impart training and skill upgradation of rural youth geared towards entrepreneurship development. RSETIs are managed by banks with active co-operation from the Government of India and State Governments. The main objectives of RSETIs are:

- 1. To identify rural BPL youth and train them for self-employment,
- 2. To train them in specific areas after assessment their aptitude,
- 3. To provide hand holding support for assured credit linkage with banks and
- 4. To provide escort services for at least two years to ensure sustainability.

Some of the areas which are offered for training under RSETI are Horticulture, Sericulture , Dairy Farming ,Poultry, Piggery,Mushroom Cultivation, Sheep Rearing, Cultivation of Medicinal and Aromatic Plants,Bee Keeping, Electric Motor Rewinding and Pumpset Maintenance, Servicing of Digital Electronics, Tractor Servicing, Two Wheeler Servicing, Beauty Parlour Management ,Digital Designing and Publication (DTP), Sewing Machine Servicing and Repairs , Hand Embroidery, Food Processing & Bakery Products, Dress Designing ,Agarbatti Making, Jute Products Manufacturing, Paper Bag, Envelop & File Making, Computerized Financial Accounting Computer, Data Entry Operation etc.

As on date, 587 RESTIs are operational and 35 banks are participating in the scheme. RESIs have trained 24,58,298 rural youth and out of them 16,12,310 have been gainfully employed. An amount of Rs. 342.75 crores has been disbursed to them.

Regional Rural Banks (RRBs) were set up as state-sponsored, regionally based and rural oriented institutions under the Regional Rural Banks Act, 1976. The RRBs are owned by the Central Government, the State Government and the Sponsor Bank (Any commercial bank can sponsor the regional rural banks) hold shares in the ratios of 50%,15% and 35% respectively.

The mandate of RRBs is to serve the credit needs of the small and marginal farmers, agricultural labourers, socio-economically weaker section of population for development of agriculture, trade, commerce, industry and other productive activities. The effective number of RRBs as on 31st March, 2014 stands at 57 and as on 31st March, 2014, these RRBs operated with a network of 19,082 branches (17,861 branches during previous year) covering 642 districts. 75 per cent of the branches of the RRBs were in the rural areas.

As on 31st March, 2014, an amount of Rs.2173.43 crore has been released to 38 RRBs in 20 States. The released amount includes Gol's contribution of Rs. 1086.70 crore, State Govt's contribution of Rs. 326.04 crore and Sponsor bank's contribution of Rs.760.69 crore.

As on 31st March, 2014, the outstanding advances of RRBs stood at Rs.1,59,302 crore and the share of priority Sector advances of the total outstanding advances of RRBs as on 31st March, 2014 is 81.74 per cent and the share of agricultural loans is 56.68 per cent as on 31st March, 2014.

In addition to these common efforts being made by the public sector banks, individual banks are also taking initiatives in social banking especially generating self-employment opportunities in rural areas. For example; UCO Bank has two unique social cum financial upliftment schemes namely, UCO Uthan Scheme and UCO Samagra Gramin Vikas Yojana. Under the first scheme, villages having large number of BPL families are adopted through its nearest branch to bring the BPL families out of the clutches of poverty. The Bank has adopted 31 villages in 10 states and by these efforts 6,568 BPL families have been provided with credit assistance by Bank to uplift their livelihood in a better way during the last 4 years. Under UCO Samagra Gramin Vikas Yojana, the Bank has adopted 10 villages in 6 states for their all-round development. Under financial assistance, Bank has given General Credit Cards to small traders, Artisan Credit Cards to artisans and loans for animal husbandry to rural folks including women.

IAS (MAINS)...

from the older one in as much as it requires a very diverse base of knowledge that can not be gained by reading up few books , but, by wider consultations of authentic study materials on the subject.

Linguistic skills: This skill has two aspects. One, good command over language and two, an attractive writing ability. In other words, the main components of linguistic skills are: (a) crisp, lucid writing, (b) simple, original style, (c) well connected paragraphs, (d) command over short answer writing (150- 160 words)

Without honing linguistic skills, it is impossible to score high marks even if you have accumulated adequate information and knowledge in the subject. A pertinent question to ask in this context is: what kind of writing is liked by UPSC examiners? Well, there can be no official answer available to this question. But, experience suggests that a well informed, learned examiner will expect your answer to be truly your answer and not a text book or journalistic answer. They are keen to know how you answer a question rather than what the book or a journal or newspaper narrates facts regarding it. Therefore, a good linguistic skill must be honed by attempting to write in your own style which of course will evolve through repeated writing practice. You must have access to a good mentor who can give you tips on your writing skills. Though a number of Test Series are available in the coaching world, these do not necessarily enhance your writing styles because not highly experienced and competent examiners are evaluating your copies. Thus, you should not depend on mass test series modules. A better way will be to write a few tests and get them evaluated by some competent person, say, a University professor, a senior civil servant who know the subject matter. They can give you useful inputs to improve your writing skills.

Each Mains Paper requires different terms and terminologies: Apart from developing cognitive skills and linguistic skills, you must understand that your writing style cannot be the same for each paper of the main exam. This is so because, each paper has a different syllabus and it requires use of appropriate terms and terminologies. To take an example, in Ethics paper, you need a particular set of terms that should occur in your answer frequently and contextually. Terms like generosity, altruism, compa-ssion, integrity, autonomy, accountability must figure in your answers on ethics questions as well as case studies. Similarly, if you are dealing with questions asked on disaster management, terms like, mitigation, adaptation, rehabilitation, resilience must figure in your answers. Again, if you are answering questions on international relations, terms like multilateralism, unilatera-lism, rules based order, inclusive approach, enlightened self interest etc must be used. Use of these terms reflect your good understanding of the issues and will translate into better marks . The examiner will appreciate that you have taken a keen interest to understand the subject and you know the popular parlance used in a particular subject.

Speed writing is the name of the game: In the present mains format, you are required to write 20 answers in GS papers and 28 answers in the optional papers. In three hours, it is almost an impossible task. Many candidates report after the exam , including the top rankers, that they could not answer all the questions for paucity of time, though they knew the answer. This is a real challenge and one must develop a speed writing ability. By this, it is implied that one has to write much faster than the usual writing habit. In each question, you can devote only 6 to 7 minutes. This will come through regular practice. You must frame a strategy to write fast and work on it over a period of time. For fast writing, you need to remember the following things.

1. Don't write long answers. Though usually, an answer should be of 150 words, the word limit is not given much importance. It is the quality of the answer that matters. So, try to write your answers in just 120-130 words without fearing that it would penalise you. UPSC in its notification itself has stated that the word limit is only indicative and marks shall be given for in depth knowledge and not superficial knowledge.

2. Do not write on irrelevant aspects. Just answer the question. Every question requires specific answer. So, don't try to put information not asked in the question though the information may relate to that question. It would unnecessarily make your answers longer. Suppose, a question is asked on how ethics can play a role in restoring environment in our times. To answer this, you don't need to define ethics and its various components. Just begin your answer by highlighting how an ethical approach to environment is key to solving the problems it faces.

3. Write in a flow and maintain it till last: In exam situation, you are not going to have the liberty to think, ponder over each question comfortably and then craft your answers. You have to write and write in a flow till you have gone to the last question. For this again , you need to rehearse in a simulated environment

4. Save time on well known answers: Some of the questions asked will be well known to you and you can write faster answers to those questions. Attempt them first so that you can save time for little known answers which would require time to think over the answer before writing them. You can use this method to your advantage.

PRESENTATION OF CHARTS, DIAGRAMS: In order to save time, there is a growing practice among the aspirants to put their answers through presentation of diagrams, charts etc. Though scope does exist to buttress your answers with diagrams, charts, do not make it a regular item in all your answers. Most of the charts and diagrams are not required. What is required instead is an essay type of presentation. Since mains is a subjective exam, you cannot run away from writing paragraphs and just answer a question through diagrams etc. So, only make a prudent use of such projections in your answers.

POINT WISE ANSWER WRITING: Again, many aspirants are addicted to presenting their answers pointwise. They do this for two apparent reasons, One, to attract the attention of the examiner and two, to save on time. There is nothing wrong about point wise answer writing style as such, but writing the entire answers in points goes against the very philosophy of a subjective exam like the mains. Ideally, there should be a wise combination of both essay type and pointwise answers. I suggest that even if there is a scope to put a particular answer in a pointwise format, you must give a small introduction and conclusion before enumerating the points.

UNDERLINING YOUR ANSWERS: A large number of candidates like to underline their sentences so that they are highlighted before the examiner. One needs caution in this respect also. I have observed that in many cases , the highlighted sentences are not something extraordinary but just some piece of information. This poses two problems. One, the examiner may not be impressed by your underlined sentence. Two, you may distract his attention from other parts of your answer. He will judge you only on the basis of reading your highlighted sentences and not the full answer. Both are risky propositions, therefore, try avoiding underlining unnecessarily.

GIVING CAPTIONS TO YOUR ANSWERS: Yes, captions do serve a purpose. They highlight the various aspects of your answer. But each question may not lend itself to caption based answer. So, you have to be mature enough to decide, where captions will fit in and where not.

INTORODUCTION AND CONCLUSION: Each answer has an introductory paragraph, the main body and a conclusion. In the introduction, you must encapsulate the answer so that the examiner gets a feel of what you are going to write in the answer. In the main body, use two, three small paragraphs dealing with various aspects of the answer. Finally, in the conclusion, sum up the theme and show the way forward.

USE OF QUOTATIONS: Absolutely. If the context requires, you can quote Gandhi, Nehru, Mother Teresa and many others to lend weight and credence to your answer. But you should be discreet in quoting them . Unnecessary quotes should be avoided. I have seen that in many answers students will use the famous quote of Gandhi: Earth has enough for our need but not for our greed, without any contextual justifications. So application of mind must precede quoting a great person. Never quote a journalist or a diplomat's name in your answers just because you read his article in a newspaper. It may not be appreciated by the examiner. You can take their views and present them in general form rather than in quotations. Only well known names like Gandhi, Nehru, should be quoted without second thoughts rather than all kinds of names.

Before you are writing the main exam this year, you may practice answer writing at least 5 times factoring in the suggestions presented in this article to reap full benefits.
