YOGA : INDIA'S BEST GIFT TO THE WORLD

S.B. Singh

Every year on June 21, International yoga day is celebrated the world over after the United Nations (UN), recognising yoga's universal appeal, passed the Resolution No. 69/131 on December 11, 2014. The resolution received co-sponsorship of 173 member nations and all the five permanent United Nations Security Council (UNSC) members backed it. This points to the global appeal yoga holds to the world community today. Recognising that "yoga provides a holistic approach to health and well being" it was felt at the UN that wider dissemination of information about benefits of practising yoga would be beneficial for the health of world population. The fifth international yoga day, being celebrated on June, 21 this year has as its theme: "CLIMATE ACTION". This whole world is battling climate change which is upon us now in a very real way and which threatens the very survival of the planet and the humanity itself. When we are faced with sixth mass extinction due to anthropocentric activities, yoga can show us the way by regenerating human faith in a natural lifestyle.

PM Modi highlighted the importance of yoga at UN in these words "Yoga embodies unity of mind and body; thought and action; restraint and fulfilment; harmony between man and nature; a holistic approach to health and well being."

Why on 21st June? This day was chosen because it happens to be a day of summer solstice with the longest day of the year and holds special significance in Indian mythology.

What is yoga?: According to UN, Yoga is an ancient physical, mental and spiritual practice that originated in India. The word yoga is derived from Sanskrit and means to join or to unite, symbolising the union of body and consciousness.

According to Prof. A. L. Basham, a great Indologist, yoga is a word closely connected to the English word 'yoke'. It means spiritual discipline or application. Yoga was one of the six schools of salvation in ancient India known as Sadadarshan. Yoga emphasized psychic training as the chief means of salvation. The basic text of yoga is the Yogasutra of Badarayana belonging to 2nd century B.C. In this text, the following eight stages of yogic training is prescribed:

1. Yama: self control- it involves following the five moral rules viz; non violence, truthfulness, not stealing,

CAREER OPTIONS IN YOGA

Shweta Saras

Yoga has emerged as a holistic and alternative medical care across the globe. The growing number of yoga coaching classes and studios around us is a testimony to this trend. Yoga as a natural way to keep oneself fit and healthy, is a gift of the Indian civilisation to the world. It also helps in improving mental health. Asanas (physical exercises) and Pranayam (breathing exercise) are essential components of Yoga. Yogic practice is helpful in the management of severe diseases, including cancer, bronchial asthma, colitis, peptic and ulcer. It also helps control physiological variables such as blood pressure, lipids, respiration, heart rate, and metabolic rate to improve overall exercise capacity. Yoga has emerged as a viable therapy to prevent and cure several ailments. A recent survey has claimed that over 10% of American population practice yoga and there are around 6,000 yoga studios in the US. About 300 million people practice yoga worldwide. About 14.3 million people in India practised yoga in 2013, up from 6.3 million in 2001. The yoga market is now 80 billion dollar globally. In India, the value of wellness industry has crossed Rs 85,000 crore. Yoga industry in the US is expected to become a $11.5 billion industry by 2020. The rising popularity of this therapy, to augment mental, physical emotional, and also spiritual well-being, has made it a lucrative field for all those who want to make a career in Yoga. There are numerous jobs options available both in the government as well as the private sectors for the Yoga professionals. The Union as well as the State governments are hiring such professionals for their various organizations. After pursuing different courses in Yoga, following jobs may be taken up:

- Yoga Therapist
- Yoga Instructor

- Yoga Teacher
- Research Officer- Yoga and Naturopathy
- Yoga Aerobic Instructor
- Therapists and Naturopaths
- Trainer/ Instructor Health Club

Courses in Yoga

There are numerous courses available for students who want to make their career in this field.

- ♦ Certificate Course in Yoga: It is a short term course ranging from a month long course to a 1-year course. The eligibility for this course is 10+2 from any recognised school or its equivalent exam. There is usually no age limit for this course.
- ♦ Bachelor Courses: Bachelor degree is offered in various streams like Yogic Sciences and Yoga Philosophy. Duration of these courses is three years and eligibility is 10+2 from any stream securing minimum 45% marks.

YOGA: INDIA'S ...

chastity and avoidance of greed

2. Niyama: Observance - The regular and complete observance of the above five rules.

3. Asana: Posture - It involves sitting in different positions e.g; padmasana

4. Pranayama: Control of breath - Whereby the breath is held and controlled and the respiration is forced into unusual rhythms with great spiritual and physical values.

5. Pratyahara: Restraint - Whereby the sense organs are trained to take no note of their perceptions.

6. Dharana: Steadying the mind - By concentrating on a single object such as the tip of the nose, the navel, an icon or a sacred symbol.

7. Dhyana: Meditation - When the object of concentration fills the whole mind

8. Samadhi: Deep meditation- When the whole personality is temporarily dissolved.

Thus, contrary to the popular belief, yoga is not merely about physical exercise based on certain asanas to tone up the body, it is a wholesome approach to life itself. Its regular practice paves the way for inner peace and harmony by giving us a choice to live a meaningful, happy life. It promotes within us the virtues of right conduct, right thinking and right action. These virtues are cardinal principles of Buddhism and Jainism also. It helps in greater management of our thoughts, desires and greed and navigates us towards a virtuous life based on ethical principles. Thus, yoga has both an individual relevance as well as social relevance.

The former UN Secretary General, Ban Ki Moon has endorsed yoga in the following words.

"Yoga can contribute to resilience against non-communicable diseases and can bring communities together in an inclusive manner that generates respect. Yoga is a sport that can contribute to development and peace and can even help people in emergency situations to find relief from stress."

No doubt, yoga brings thought and action together in harmony while demonstrating a holistic approach to health and well being. The multi faceted advantages of yoga in enhancing social and spiritual well being of an individual with long term benefits for leading a good life has made it popular across the globe. Apart from this, through multi-disciplinary research in different fields, yoga has attained therapeutic importance and people look at yoga in preventing and maintaining various ailments.

Changes in lifestyle, food consumption patterns and sedentary habits have added to the disease burden which has taken its toll in the health and finances of the people. Also, at a time when there is so much attention on division and conflict, yoga comes as a powerful force to heal our differences and bring harmony. At a time in our society when much of the focus is on how different we are from each other in race, colour and creed, yoga offers an opportunity to experience and celebrate the fact that we all belong to one race- the race of humanity.

Scientific evidence of benefits of yoga: Real time research on yoga has confirmed its benefits on health. By reducing perceived stress and anxiety, yoga modulates stress response systems. This decreases physical arousal e.g. reducing the heart rate, lowering blood pressure and easing respiration. There is also scientific evidence that yoga practices help increase heart rate variability, an indicator of the body's ability to respond to stress more flexibly. For many patients dealing with depression, anxiety or stress, yoga may be a very appealing way to better manage symptoms. Indeed, the scientific study of yoga demonstrates that mental and physical health are not just closely allied but are essentially equivalent. The evidence is growing that yoga practices is a relatively low risk high yield approach to improving overall health.

A leading American journal, Scientific American has credited ancient Indians for the understanding of yogic sciences. The journal noted the contribution of pranayama thus, "Pranayama (breath retention) yoga was the first doctrine to build a theory around respiratory control, holding that controlled breathing was a way to increase longevity."

Yoga as India's soft power: In the 1990s, Joseph Nye, an www.Jobriya.com

American scholar came up with the concept of soft power. According to him, power is the ability to alter the behaviour of others to get what you want, and there are basically three ways to do that,

1. Coercive (sticks)
2. Payments (carrots)
3. Attractive (soft power)

According to Nye, the soft power of a country rests primarily on three resources

- a.its culture
- b. its political values
- c. its foreign policy

Thus, soft power is the ability to get what you want through attraction rather through coercion or payments. In other words, soft power is the ability to affect the behaviour of others through persuasion.

India practices value based foreign policy that lends it credence and respect. To boost itself as a soft power, India has leveraged its advantages and uniqueness in cuisine, art, culture, films, songs etc. With the declaration of yoga by UN as an international day, our soft power has received a further boost and today the world is not only getting benefited by yoga but is also showing its gratitude to India for offering a natural alternative to good health and well being. More and more people around the world, irrespective of their race, religion or creed are turning to yoga to find inner peace and harmony in life. In a world torn apart by violence, terrorism and climate change, yoga provides the healing touch. The defining features of the modern civilisation are: a rapidified, accelerated life style based on mindless extraction and consumption of the limited resources of the earth. Nationalism is driving hatred towards others. Pursuit of narrow self interests on the part of nations is driving humanity towards disaster. Global terrorism is expanding its tentacles. Yoga offers a solution to these grave challenges confronting humanity today. As Vivekananda rightly said long ago: India is destined to conquer the world spiritually. Yoga, being a part of our spiritual tradition, is poised to conquer the world and give India a lead role in contributing towards a better world for the entire humanity. Seen thus, yoga indeed is India's best export to the world.

Central Council for Research in Yoga & Naturopathy also offers a 1-year Diploma in Yoga & Naturopathy (DYN) which is approved by the M/o Health & Family Welfare. To enable more people to tap this vibrant opportunity, and bring about a standardization in the quality of yoga practices across the world, the Indian Government has launched the "Scheme for Voluntary Certification of Yoga Professionals, and is monitored by the Ministry of Ayurveda, Yoga and Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha and Homoeopathy (AYUSH). The Quality Council of India (QCI) will certify all Yoga professionals.

Colleges Offering Yoga Courses:

- Patanjali Yoga and Research Center
- Morarji Desai National Institute of Yoga
- Government College of Yoga Education and Health

SKILLS REQUIRED

On a professional level, one needs to specialize in:

- Yoga exercises for physical fitness
- Spiritual Yoga Therapy
- Yoga especially designed for kids
- Yoga for the couples
- Corporate Yoga
- Pre-Natal and/or Post-Natal Yoga
- Private lessons of Yoga
- Retreats or workshops

SCOPE

- Yoga is known throughout the World because of its simplicity. Moreover, as a form of healing have no side effects. Based on the Yoga training one can opt for the field of research, training or work as a Yoga Therapist. One can find work in:

- Research
- Academic
- Health Resorts
- Hospitals
- Gyms
- Schools
- Health centers
- Corporate Houses

Television channels also hire Yoga trainers. Self-employment is an option many opt for as well. There is no dearth of scope for the people in this noble profession.

JOB ROLES

The corporate sector has woken up to the deadly effect of stress on the health of its employees and has adopted Yoga into its culture in a big way. Yoga instructors are therefore highly sought after in these domains. Personal one-on-one classes are also becoming a popular option.

With so much of competition around, it is not easy to establish oneself and gain instant riches in this field. Becoming a yoga instructor is not as easy as it seems, as it requires a lot of patience, practice, perseverance and dedication. You need to be able to gauge the right regimen for your students depending on their need, age, lifestyle, body, and fitness. You also have to think carefully about the style of Yoga you want to teach. Transitioning from a Yoga student to a teacher is not an overnight change as it is much more than demonstrating or practicing Yoga postures!

It's time to convert your passion to your profession. Grab a Yoga mat to learn your Lotus pose, and dream on!

1. The selection process will comprise of Written Test and a Skill/Proficiency/ Physical Test (SPPT) which will be of qualifying nature. Category-wise and Post-wise Merit list shall be drawn on the basis of marks obtained in the Written Test, only for such candidates who qualify in the SPPT.
2. Every candidate will have to secure a minimum of 40% marks in the written test for qualifying in the SPPT.
3. The minimum qualifying marks in the written test will be relaxed by 5% for candidates belonging to SC/ST/PwBD categories against reserved positions.
4. Obtaining minimum qualifying marks in the written test does not confer any right or claim by the candidate for being shortlisted for the SPPT or the final selection, as the same is related to number of positions, ratio applied and relative performance in respective categories.
5. Short listed candidates, in the ratio of 1:2 (with due cognizance to no. of reserved posts) subject to securing minimum qualifying marks in the written test, will be required to undergo the SPPT. The SPPT for each discipline shall be conducted by a duly constituted committee.
6. In case of tie of marks in the written test for the last position on the Shortlist for SPPT, all such candidates shall be called for SPPT even if the total number exceeds the prescribed ratio. If such a situation arises anywhere before the last position while drawing the list, the last name/last few names, in proportion to the prescribed ratio will get eliminated.
7. Category-wise Merit list shall be drawn on the basis of marks obtained in the written test from & out of the said short-list; only for such candidates who qualify in the SPPT.
8. In case of tie of marks for the last position on the Merit List, the candidate with prior date of birth (senior by age) shall find a place in the Merit List. If such a situation arises anywhere before the last position while drawing a list, the last name/last few names in the list, in the proportion to the prescribed ratio, will get eliminated.
9. Candidates, who have availed of concession in Age, Eligibility qualification marks or in Written Test qualifying marks, as is available to a category, will be considered against reserved positions, irrespective of their position in select list (in order of merit within the category).
10. PwBD and Ex-Servicemen candidates, if found suitable, will be considered against reserved vacancy irrespective of their position in the Merit List (in order of merit within the category) on horizontal reservation policy.
11. However, a PwBD candidate availing of only age relaxation will be entitled to be first considered against an unreserved post, in order of merit in select list, before being considered against a reserved post.

12. The candidature of the applicant would be provisional and subject to subsequent verification of certificates/testimonials, experiences etc. At any stage of the selection process, if it is found that the candidate has furnished false or incorrect or incomplete information, the candidature/ appointment of the candidate will be cancelled.
13. Filling up of vacancies is solely at the discretion of the Management based on suitability of candidates and no claim will arise for appointment, if some of the vacancies are not filled due to unsuitability/insufficient number of candidates.
14. The decision of the management will be final and binding on all candidates on all matters relating to eligibility, acceptance or rejection of the applications, mode of selection and cancellation of the selection process, etc. No correspondence will be entertained in this regard.

The increased focus on Yoga by the Prime Minister Mr Narendra Modi and his government has improved job opportunities in Yoga training. The initiative like 'International Yoga Day' has brought the enhanced focus on Yoga at a global level. The demand for yoga teachers has grown exponentially, and a recent study by ASSOCHAM reveals that the demand for trainers is set to grow by 30-35 per cent in the couple of years. Though India has emerged as one of the biggest Yoga teachers' exporters in the world; however, the country itself is facing a shortage of about 3 lakh yoga instructors as against the requirement of over 5 lakh yoga practitioners. So, a bright future awaits for all those who want to pursue their career in Yoga.

YOGA FOR STRESS MANAGEMENT

Stress has become a common problem in modern life; a chronic condition in everyday life. About 89% of the population in India are suffering from stress. In addition, one in eight people have serious trouble in dealing with stress, with millennials suffering more than other groups. Stress is abnormal reaction the body has when changes occur. It is response of the body which occurs in difficult situations. The body responds to these changes physically, mentally, or emotionally. It is usually believed that stress is always because of negative changes; but, even positive life changes such as a promotion, or success in an examination produce stress. The term 'stress', as it is currently used was coined by Hans Selye in 1936, who defined it as "the non-specific response of the body to any demand for change". Yogic way of life, if adopted in true sense, empowers us to deal with stress and in promoting physical and mental health. The seventeenth Shloka of the sixth chapter of Bhagwat-Gita gives us five dimensions of Yoga.

युक्ताहारविहारस्य युक्तचेष्टस्य कर्मसु।

युक्तस्वप्नावबोधस्य योगो भवति दुःखहा॥

The components of yogic way of life are: Namely;

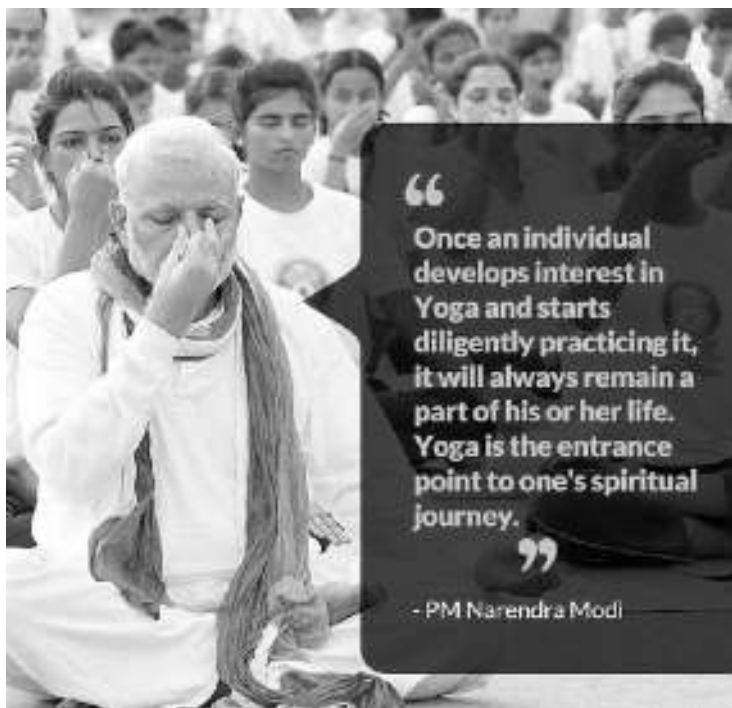

- I. Ahara (Food)
- II. Vihara (Relaxation)
- III. Achara (Conduct)
- IV. Vichara (Thinking)
- V. Vyavahara (Behaviour or actions)

1. Ahara (Food):

A diet should be healthy and help develop a stronger body and mind. A yogic diet helps in achieving better health, sound intellect and also peaceful mind & heart. A yogic diet is nutritious and rich in vital energy. It is often said that, "you are what you eat". So, the Yoga emphasises on the nature of diet you intake. The Yogic concept of Ahara or Food dresses on three qualities of nature.

- Satv
- Raj
- Tam

Satv is the quality of love, light and life. Raj, on the other hand, is the quality of activity and passion, lacking stability; and Tam is the quality of darkness and inertia, dragging us into ignorance and attachment. Yoga considers food as a carrier of the life force called pran and the quality of pran effects our consciousness. The Bhagavad Gita describes the sattvic diet as promoting life, virtue, health, strength, happiness and satisfaction. It describes the rajasic diet as excessively pungent, sour, salty, hot, harsh, astringent and burnt, leading to pain, misery and sickness; whereas the tamasic foods are described as state, tasteless, smelly, left over, rotten and foul. Sattvic food are savory, smooth, firm and pleasant to the stomach. This category of food is that which is pure, clean and wholesome. A sattvic diet is food that gives life, strength, energy, “Once an individual develops interest in Yoga and starts diligently practicing it, it will always remain a part of his or her life. Yoga is the entrance point to one's spiritual journey.”

- PM Narendra Modi

courage and self determination. In other words, sattvic food gives as more than the gross physical requirements of the proper mix of proteins, carbs and fats etc. It also give us the subtle nourishment necessary for vitality and consciousness. To keep oneself stress-free, happy, calm and full of life energy, one should keep one's diet sattvic. www.jobriya.com

Yoga emphasises on meditation to get the true test of food. And helps in developing a taste of sattvic diet, and also a calm mind. Bhagavad Gita says that when satva predominates, the light of wisdom shines through every gate of the body.

2. Vihara (Relaxation)

The modern society is facing an epidemic of lifestyle related diseases like obesity, diabetes, heart diseases, etc., which primarily result from stress, improper diet and irregular or sedentary lifestyle. According to yogic philosophy, in order to achieve and maintain healthy living or Arogya, it is essential to practice a healthy Vihar or relaxation. Vihara can be brought about by activities such as exercise, recreation and creative activities like drawing, painting, singing, etc. These activities help to regulate and channelise our emotions and bring us joy and happiness. Yogic practices of asana, pranayama and meditation relax body and mind. Yoga prescribes certain healthy practices to gain a Swasthvirriti or a healthy lifestyle are recommended. Dinacharya or a healthy and sustainable pattern of lifestyle, obeying the biological cycles of nature, is essential component of yogic practice. Yogic Dinacharya includes waking up early in the morning, elimination of our natural wastes, maintaining oral hygiene, i.e. cleaning teeth and tongue, gargling etc., exercising regularly, body massage, bathing, clothing, eye care, nasal care, etc. Lack of sound sleep or restful sleep is a symptom of stress. As per Yogic Science, quality sleep is essential for a healthy life. It is possible only when the mind is totally dissociated from the senses. Sound sleep rejuvenates mind and also improves mental power. A regular pattern of quality sleep is essential for a stress-free life.

3. Achara (Conduct)

Yoga prescribes that the conduct of a person should be ethical for maintaining a healthy and stress-free life. Good conduct includes honest, truthful behaviour, avoiding hatred and jealousy, compassion, etc. It also teaches us to build healthy routines that would balance our efforts throughout the day, throughout the years, and ultimately throughout the life. Healthy routines help us to use our time efficiently. Yoga is also defined as "breaking old routines/habits and building healthy new one". Ancient yogic noticed that the biggest mind problem is to bear the moment-to-moment life. To face the reality of life is the hardest thing to do for the mind. It is very easy to lose grip on the present moment as the mind has the ability to escape into past memories, impressions, day dreaming, imagination and ignorance. We should have control on our desires, instincts, emotions, habits and attitudes. Here, yoga is important as it encourages good conduct in our personal and social life. Yoga advocates for positive emotions and positive attitude towards self and other persons. Yogic principles of Yama (restraint) and Niyama (observance) help to develop control on our desires and emotions and bring about peace and harmony.

4. Vichara (Thinking)

Vichara is the internal dialogue of a practitioner with self (with his own mind). It is talking to one's mind. Vichara is Self Enquiry. Vichara helps in developing a relationship with one's own mind. It is said that, the only way to understand Self Enquiry is to practise it. It is best to practice Vichara or Self Enquiry daily before you start with your meditation. Allow the mind to present you with all its doubts, questions and fears. Invite these to come forward so that the mind does not disturb you with these during your meditation. One can ask oneself questions like "O Mind, What do you want? What is the purpose of life? What is the goal of life? One can dedicate the mind by the power of Vichara to the path of light and enlightenment. This is to be noted that Vichara should not become a monologue. One should listen to one's consciousness and the answers will come from your mind. Listening is the key to the exercise. Vichara leads to the process of self discovery. A time comes, when your mind becomes your best companion in one's journey and evolution. It becomes practitioner's friend, teacher, guide and mentor. Yoga prescribes that one should have positive thoughts. Positive thoughts give us strength to bear the sorrows of life. Yogic practices like pratyahara, and dhyana (meditation) help us in controlling our thoughts and thereby promoting optimism in life.

5. Vyavahara (Behaviour or actions)

Vyavahara is the result of ahara, vihara, achara and vichara. According to Yogic philosophy, our actions should be right. We should not be indulged in wrong activities. Our behaviour towards others should be appropriate. What we experience today is the result of our karma-both good and bad-created by our previous actions. Karma- Yoga proposes that we should perform right act with full dedication without worrying about the results. We should give 100 percent effort, without being attached to the outcome. Can be applied to everything you do: from the most trivial, ordinary tasks to greater, more challenging works. Bhagavad-Gita explains this in the following verse, when Arjuna was not willing to fight the Epic war of Mahabharat and Krishna explains to him to perform his duties.

कर्मण्येवाधिकारस्ते मा फलेषु कदाचन।

मा कर्मफलहेतुर्भूर्मातेसिद्ध्योऽस्तु त्वकर्मणि॥

It says, "Keep on performing your duties without expecting for any reward in return, leading a selfless life."

When action is performed selflessly, with full focus and attention, it brings fulfillment and freedom. Acting without being attached to the fruits of one's deeds - this alone can lead to union with the Self, which is the goal of yoga. We can remain stress-free and become happy if we follow this philosophy and act accordingly.

Yogic Asanas for Stress Management

♦ Ardhamatsyendrasana: The word comes from Ardha (Half), Matsyendra (from the name of Yogi Matsyendranath) and Asana (Posture). Yogi Matsyendranath was the founder of Hatha Yoga & Nath Tradition. Full Spinal Twist position was the favourite meditation pose of the Sage so this pose is named after him. However, as it is a little difficult to practice a simplified form Half Spinal Twist came about.

♦ Bhujangasana

Bhujangasana or Cobra Pose is a reclining back-bending asana. It is commonly performed in a cycle of asanas in Surya Namaskar. The name comes from the words Bhujanga (Snake) and Asana (Posture). This asana is very helpful in stress management. In Bhujangasana the organs of endocrine system especially the adrenal glands and pancreas are activated which help in strengthening them.

♦ Hastottanasana

The name is made of three words: Hasta (Arms), Uttana (Stretch Up) and Asana (Posture). In this posture, the arms are stretched upwards, hence, it is called Hastottanasana. It relaxes whole body and relieves pain in neck, shoulders and arms

♦ Makarasana

The name comes from Makara meaning crocodile and Asana meaning posture. This asana is described in the 17th-century Ghera??a Sa?hita. Crocodile Pose is a relaxing yoga asana. It is perfect for back and shoulder problems. The pose resembles a crocodile taking rest in water, keeping its face and neck above the surface water level. It offers deep relaxation for shoulders and spine. It relaxes body completely and keeps the practitioner rejuvenated. Makarasana treats hypertension, heart diseases, and mental disorder

♦ Matsyasana

The name comes from Matsya (Fish) and Asana (Posture). According to Hindu mythology Matsya was an incarnation of Lord Vishnu who is believed to be the preserver of the Universe. This asana aims at being focused and resilient when one feels out of balance. It is especially helpful in anxiety. The practitioner feels energized and full of life after doing it.

♦ Shavasana
This asana gets its name from the recumbent posture of a dead body. This posture is very effective for de-stressing the body and mind. In this asana, the body and mind remain in a state of rest. This helps in the repair of tissues and cells, and there by rejuvenates the body and mind. It helps to reduce blood pressure, anxiety and insomnia.

♦ Padahasthasana
The name consists of three words, pada (feet), hasta (arms) and asana (posture). In this asana, the hands are brought near the feet, hence it is called Padahasthasana. It is one of the 12 basic postures of Hatha yoga. It is also the third pose of surya namaskar. It is believed to reduce tamas, which means heaviness or inertia in the body. It helps the practitioner to feel lighter and more energised. It is also said to slow the heartbeat, giving relief from both mental and physical exhaustion.

♦ Trikonasana
The term comes from the word trikona, meaning triangle and asana (posture). It is a standing yoga posture that requires strength, balance and flexibility. In this posture, both arms extend with the legs spread apart and one foot turned at a 90-degree angle. The upper body bends toward the lead foot so that one arm reaches toward, but not necessarily touching, the ground and the other toward the sky.

♦ Sarvangasana
The name consists of Sarv meaning all, anga meaning part of a body, and asana (posture).As the name suggests, the asana influences the functioning of all parts of your body. Sarvangasana is an asana in which the whole body is balanced on the shoulders. It increases the supply of blood to the brain and strengthens the central nervous system enabling the person to ght the problems induced by stress. This asana is highly beneficial in maintaining the mental and physical health and is also referred as 'Queen of asanas'.

♦ Ushtrasana
The name consists of words, Ushtra meaning camel and Asana (posture). The body resembles a camel in the final position of this asana. Hence, this is called Ushtrasana. This asana should be practised after Sarvangasana.It is known to open up the heart chakra and increase strength and flexibility.

♦ Shashankasana
The name comprises of Shashanka (Hare or rabbit) and Asana (posture). This asana resembles a rabbit in the final position. There are many benefits of this asana including relaxation, relieving of depression and much more. It is one of those which is very easy to perform and can be done by anyone regardless of age.

The objective of the Swachh Survekshan survey, which is conducted by an independent third party, is to encourage large scale citizen participation, ensure sustainability of initiatives taken towards garbage free and open defecation free cities and create awareness amongst all sections of society about the importance of working together towards making towns and cities a better place to live in.

International

- In France, hundreds of veterans gathered to honour the sacrifice of those who died in the D-Day landings by Allied troops. World leaders attended ceremonies honouring Allied forces who fought in the largest combined land, air and naval operation in history. Wreaths were laid, a minute's silence was held and veterans linked arms and sang, before watching an RAF flypast. UK Prime Minister Theresa May and French President Emmanuel Macron thanked veterans who took part in June 1944. President Donald Trump called former US soldiers the pride of the nation.

Business & Economy

- The Reserve bank of India in its bi-monthly monetary policy review has reduced the repo rate by 25 basis points to 5.75 per cent from 6.0 per cent with immediate effect. Consequently, the reverse repo rate stands adjusted to 5.50 per cent, and the marginal standing facility rate and the Bank Rate to 6.0 per cent. The six-member Monetary Policy Committee headed by RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das also unanimously decided to change the stance of monetary policy from neutral to accommodative. Taking into account the weak global demand due to the escalation in trade wars and weakened private consumption in rural areas, Mr Das informed that the RBI has lowered the GDP growth forecast for 2019-20 to 7 percent from 7.2 percent. With a view to boosting digital transactions, RBI has decided to do away with charges levied on RTGS and NEFT transactions and banks will be required to pass this benefit to their customers. The next meeting of the MPC is scheduled from August 5 to 7.

Sports

- Sunil Chhetri became the most capped India player by surpassing Bhaichung Bhutia's 107 international matches. In his milestone match of the King's Cup football tournament in Buriram, Thailand, he scored the lone goal for his side in the 31st minute from a spot kick for his 69th goal.

His effort, however, did not make any difference as India, ranked 101, lost 1-3 to higher ranked Curacao.
