LABOUR LAW REFORMS TO BOOST ECONOMY AND EMPLOYMENT

Dr. S P Sharma

India is the fastest growing major economy in the world. The country has witnessed a growth rate of more than 7% (average) in the post-Lehman era (FY2010-FY2020). The macro-economic environment including GDP growth, inflation and fiscal consolidation remained conducive till the daunting impact of COVID Pandemic on Indian economy. The two consecutive years since 2020 were marked as difficult years for the Indian economy due to the impact of COVID-19 led economic crisis. The bold economic policies of the Government, along with the calibrated measures by the RBI, and untiring efforts of the industry helped the economy to rejuvenate on higher growth path once again.

At the global charts, the Indian economy is looking remarkably attractive on the back of high GDP growth, significant improvement in ease of doing business and its attractiveness for foreign investments. Also, Indian economy is showing strong resilience to the global geo-political shocks on the back of the strengthened macroeconomic foundation, led by the efforts of Government. According to the IMF, India's GDP is projected to grow at 8.2% in FY 2023 and 6.9% in FY 2024.

The economic growth is not only the measure of development but also includes the objectivity to achieve broad based improvement in the living standards of the people. One of the indicators of this broad based improvement is to provide gainful employment opportunities to the working class population along with creating a facilitative environment for labour market in the country. Employment plays a key role in all developing countries, as the countries which attained high rates of employment growth alongside high rates of economic growth are also the ones who succeeded in ensuring sustainable growth and development.

During the last few years, government has undertaken a plethora of reforms for each and every segment of the population like Make in India, Jan DhanYojana, Digital India, Start-up India, Smart Cities, Ayushman Bharat, Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, Bharatmala, implementation of GST and historic union call for Atmanirbhar Bharat. The merger of 44 Union labour laws into just 4 codes has been one such game changing reforms by the Government.

In an effort to reform and transform many archaic and complex labour laws, which dated back to pre-independence period and were bottlenecks for business friendly environment, the Central Government, in 2019, decided to merge 44 Union labour laws into just 4 codes, to harmonize the needs of workers, industries and other related parties. The four labour Codes are: (i) The Code on Wages (ii) Industrial Relations Code (iii) Code on Occupational Safety, Health & Working Conditions and (iv) Social Security Code.

FINDING A CAREER IN REGIONAL RURAL BANKS

Arti S

In our country, banking sector offers good career opportunities. The journey of banking in our country has been quite interesting and since independence our banking industry has come a long way. In the government banking space, two events have been game changers. One was nationalization of 20 private sector banks in two phases in 1969 and 1980, and the other was establishment of Regional Rural Banks' network which happened in the year 1975. Although nationalization of banks resulted in massive bank branch expansion, it was felt that our rural population was not adequately served by banks and since more than two third of our population resided in villages, more bank branches were required in the hinterland. The famous Narsimham Committee recommended another tier of banks in rural areas. The Government of India came out with an ordinance on 26 September 1975 and Regional Rural Banks Act was passed in the year 1976.

The first RRB was established at Moradabad in Uttar Pradesh. Like mergers between nationalized banks, massive consolidation has taken place between RRBs. After restructuring and consolidation, presently there are 43 RRBs sponsored by different commercial banks, spread over the country.

As is evident from the name, RRBs operate in a designated area with regional presence. These banks have the ownership of Central Government, State Government of the state in which the bank operates and the sponsoring bank, with a shareholding of 50%, 15% and 35% in that order. As said earlier, each RRB is sponsored by a public sector bank. For example Chaitanya Godavari Grammena Bank in Andhra Pradesh is sponsored by Union Bank of India Bank and Aryavart Bank in Uttar Pradesh is sponsored by Bank of India.

Since their inception RRBs have played significant role in financial inclusion, strengthening the rural economy and empowering rural populace comprising of small farmers, labourers, artisans etc.

In order to fulfil the manpower requirements of RRBs, a massive integrated selection process is conducted every year

PATH-BREAKING INITIATIVES UNDERTAKEN BY THE GOVERNMENT OVER THE LAST 8 YEARS

Part V- UDAN Scheme

India is the world's third-largest market in the aviation sector. In this densely globalized economy, air transport is a key element in a country's transport infrastructure and plays an important role in its economic growth. As per an International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) study, every Rs. 100 spent on air transport contributes to Rs. 325 worth of benefits, and every 100 direct jobs in air transport result in 610 jobs in the economy as a whole. As the Indian economy grows, consumption-led growth in populated metros is expected to spill over to hinterland areas. Air connectivity can provide required impetus to the economic growth of regional centers (towns/cities).

In this context, one of the key objectives of National Civil Aviation Policy, 2016 is to "establish an integrated ecosystem which will lead to significant growth of the civil aviation sector, which in turn would promote tourism, increase employment and lead to a balanced regional growth". And thus, the Government started the Regional Connectivity Scheme-UDAN that aims to "enhance regional connectivity through fiscal support and infrastructure development" in 2016.

What is UDAN Scheme?

As per a study conducted by the Ministry of Civil Aviation before the scheme, 65 per cent air connectivity and 61 per cent traffic was focussed only in the six metros, RCS-UDAN, or the Regional Connectivity Scheme-Ude Desh Ka Aam Naagrik, was launched to connect small and medium cities with big cities through air service. It seeks to fulfill the common citizen's dream of air travel, with an enhanced aviation infrastructure and air connectivity in tier II and III cities. The Ministry of Civil Aviation plans and commits to construct 100 new airports by 2024 in India with 1,000 new routes under UDAN RCS scheme by the year 2026.

Benefits

UDAN scheme has immensely benefitted several sectors pan-India including Hilly States, North-Eastern region, and Islands. UDAN has a positive impact on the economy of the country and has witnessed an excellent response from industry stakeholders especially airlines operators and state governments. The scheme has provided connectivity across the length and breadth of the country along with ensuring balanced regional growth resulting in economic growth and employment to the local population.

The scheme also led to development of new Greenfield Airports such as Pakyong near Gangtok in Sikkim, Tezu in Arunachal Pradesh, and Kurnool in Andhra Pradesh.

The scheme has also opened up employment, business, and tourism opportunities. Forty-six important tourist spots have been selected under the UDAN scheme to promote tourism. These include famous cities like Udaipur, Varanasi and Goa and less explored places like Agartala, Aizawl, Shillong and others in the North East.

Features

More than 3,300 cities of the country will be getting connected to each other through air routes. Helicopter and Sea-Plane service is also included in UDAN. Airfare for a one-hour journey by a 'fixed wing' aircraft or half an hour's journey by a helicopter for about 500 km has been fixed at Rs. 2,500.

Aviation companies bid for air routes. The company that asks for the lowest subsidy is awarded the contract. Under fare for each flight, the airline has to book half, or a minimum of nine, or a maximum of 40 seats.

The Government compensates in the form of Viability Gap Funding (VGF) to airlines for losses due to low fares. Airport Authority of India has also waived off the airport fee for the same. The state governments are also providing security, electricity, and fire-fighting facilities free of cost.

Noteworthy Facts & Stats

In April 2017, the first flight from Shimla to Delhi under the UDAN Scheme was flagged off by the Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi himself.

In a short span of 5 years, over 420 UDAN routes connect 67 underserved/unserved airports, including heliports and water aerodromes, and nearly one crore people have benefited from it. More than 1 lakh 79 thousand flights have flown under this scheme.

medium cities. Operating cost of airlines has come down by 12-13% Domestic air traffic has seen a 5% increase in passenger numbers from smaller cities.

Airports Authority of India(AAI), the implementing

Subsidies worth Rs. 1,228 crore have been given to enable passengers to get tickets at cheaper rates.

The Ministry of Civil Aviation (MoCA) flagship Regional Connectivity Scheme UDAN (Ude Desh ka Aam Naagrik) was awarded the Prime Minister's Award for Excellence in Public Administration 2020 under the category "Innovation (General) - Central".

Part VI -Sugamya Bharat Abhiyan

A truly inclusive society is one in which everyone can lead an independent, self-reliant and dignified life and contribute to the nation's overall development. However, inaccessible physical environments, lack of mobility and transportation, unavailability of assistive devices and technologies, inaccessible accessible ecosystems to help persons with disabilities by providing equality of opportunity and an enabling environment. In line with the motto of 'Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas, Sabka Vishwas', the Government resolved to provide universal accessibility. Hon'ble Prime Minister himself gave the term 'divyangjan' to the persons with disabilities and launched the Accessible India Campaign or the Sugamya Bharat Abhiyan on World Disability Day on December 3, 2015.

What is Accessible India Campaign?

The Accessible India Campaign drew inspiration from the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UNCRPD) and the Action Plan and targets of the Accessible India Campaign have been derived from Goal 3 of the Incheon Strategy which endeavors to "Make the Right Real". The main objective is to mainstream accessibility so as to make it inherent. Accordingly, the Campaign envisages providing features of accessibility in the three verticals of Built-up environment, Transportation sector and Information & Communication Technology ecosystem, for creation of an universal barrier free environment.

To provide full legislative cover to the Campaign and right to accessibility, the government enacted the Rights for Persons with Disabilities (RPwD) Act, 2016 which came into force from April 2017. Accessibility became a Right for the Divyangjan unlike previously, when it was being seen merely as a welfare measure. Non-compliance of the provisions of the Act or Rules thereunder has been made punishable by fines and imprisonment. Thus, the Accessible India Campaign became an instrument to actualize the provisions of the Act.

Features

Built-Up Environment:

- The objective is to increase accessibility in Government buildings. Provision of features of accessibility such as staircases, ramps, double socio-economic and cultural activities. As per the Census 2011, there are 2.68 crore divyangjan in India. Thus, a need was felt for the creation of barrier-free environments and be made. The main areas of focus are public-centric buildings like schools, hospitals, police stations, courts, tourist places, etc.

Transportation Sector:

- The focus is on providing accessibility in the infrastructure as well as services of the transportation sector as a whole.
- Airports, railway stations and bus terminals as well as carriers (railway coaches, buses, etc.) and related services such as ticket booking, enquiries, booking status, booking of special assistance, etc. are being made disabled friendly.

Information & Communication Technology Ecosystem:

- To promote accessibility in websites, public documents, media content on TV and training of sign language interpreters. State/UT Government websites have been made accessible with features for screen reader, colour contrast, translation, font-size control, among others.

- The Ministry of Information and Broadcasting has formulated the standards for accessible TV viewing for persons with hearing impairment which provides for closed captioning, subtitling and designing of special devices.

Sugamya Bharat App

In line with the vision of Hon'ble Prime Minister to convert the campaign into a mass movement and for Jan-Bhagidhari, the Sugamya Bharat App—an 'Anyone-Anywhere-Anytime' application to raise issues related to accessibility, was launched on March 2, 2021. The mobile application aims to create an inclusive barrier-free environment by identifying the gaps and facilitating their remedial work by concerned authorities. The application is intended to crowdsource the issues and possible solutions related to accessibility from citizens. It also registers appreciation from the public about the best practices in creating barrier free infrastructure.

Noteworthy Facts & Stats

- Over 1,500 buildings have been made accessible by providing accessibility features such as ramps, lifts, toilets, parking, etc. These include over a thousand Central Government buildings and nearly 500 buildings in States/UTs.
- All 35 international and nearly all domestic airports have been provided with features of accessibility. Over 1,300 railway stations have been provided with features of accessibility, including over 600 railway stations with accessible inter-platform transfer and markings on edges of platforms.
- Sign Language Interpreters - More than 1250 Sign Language Interpreters have been trained by Indian Sign Language Research and Training Center through long-term, short-term and professional courses.

- For the purpose of monitoring the Campaign, an MIS portal has been launched. Central Ministries/ Departments and States/UTs upload data related to the implementation of the targets of the Accessible India Campaign on this portal.
- An accessible and interactive E-Comic-cum-Activity Book on accessibility for school going students has been prepared. This aims at explaining the concept and significance of accessibility to children in their formative years itself. The comic strip depicts the story of a young girl learning the importance of accessibility and pledging to become an Accessibility Warrior. Scan the QR code below to access the book.

LABOUR LAW REFORMS TO BOOST ...

These Labour Codes have been an important milestone for the welfare of the workers in the country, while at the same time these codes made it easier for the companies to operationalize their employee requirement with minimal government intervention. The path breaking labour codes covered over 50 crore workers from organized, unorganized and self-employed for minimum wages, social security and other labour welfare reforms. The codification has been a great move for the whole country and especially beneficial for the MSMEs as they faced constraints due to complicated regulatory environment and labour market rigidities.

The Labour Code on Industrial Relations allowed companies to hire workers on fixed-term contract of any duration. The code retained the threshold on the worker count at 100 for prior government approval before retrenchment, but it had a provision for changing 'such number of employees' through notification. Fixed term employment is highly beneficial for companies, particularly those involved in seasonal businesses as it will provide opportunities for industry in desired deployment of workforce in their respective factories.

The Labour Code on Wages aims to transform the old and obsolete labour laws into more accountable and transparent ones. The Code ensures minimum wages along with timely payment of wages to all the employees and workers. For the first time, around 40 crore workers of unorganized sector in the country have got this right.

The Labour Code on Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions aims to enhance the coverage of the safety, health and working conditions manifold as compared to the present scenario. Anomalies of the Inter-State Migrant Workers Act, 1979 have been comprehensively addressed in the OSH Code as now the workers can be Aatmanirbhar as they can register themselves as Inter-State Migrant Workers on the national portal, which would enable them to get benefits of all social security schemes.

The Code on Social Security replaces nine laws related to social security, including the Employees' Provident Fund Act, 1952, the Maternity Benefit Act, 1961, and the Unorganised Workers' Social Security Act, 2008. Social security refers to measures to ensure access to health care and provision of income security to workers.

Through introduction of these labour laws, the government has protected the interests of migrant workers, gig economy workers and unorganised workers, while enhancing the operational freedom of the manufacturers.

Labour laws have ensured a fair balance between basic interest of employees and employers and have become a guiding principle for increasing growth in both quantity and quality of employment. The labour codes are the shining examples of 'Minimum Government, Maximum Governance', and are in synchrony with the unprecedented transformation that India has undergone during 75 years of independence in terms of technology, work methodologies, work-sphere facilities and the nature of works, which will accelerate the pace of economic growth in the coming times and create immense employment opportunities for the growing young population.

The simplified labour codes would enhance ease of doing business, reduce the cost of doing business in the country, catalyze foreign as well as domestic industrial investments, create tremendous employment opportunities particularly in the MSMEs sector and make Indian businesses more competitive at the global level in the coming times.

The comprehensive labour codes would not only contribute in achieving the goal set by our Hon'ble Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi of a USD 5 trillion economy, but would also support in making India a global manufacturing hub and a self-reliant country with enhanced competitiveness in domestic as well as international market.

At this juncture, all States should come forward and implement all the consolidated labour bills to enhance India's labour productivity and create millions of employment opportunities for the growing young workforce in their respective States.

Going ahead, digitalization of labour processes should be adopted on priority. Companies can use artificial intelligence and big data analysis in labour market information system which will be a major step towards ease of doing business in the country and enhanced employment opportunities.

24. Instruction to Candidate for Answer Sheet:

Method of marking Answers:-

➤ In the 'OBJECTIVE TYPE' examination, you do not write the answers. For each question (hereinafter referred to as 'Item') several suggested answers (hereinafter referred to as 'Responses') are given. You have to choose one response to each item.

➤ The question paper will be in the Form of TEST BOOKLET. The booklet will contain item bearing numbers 1,2,3 etc. Under each item, Responses marked (a), (b), (c), (d) will be given. Your task will be to choose the correct response. If you think there is more than one correct response, then choose what you consider the best response.

➤ In any case, for each item you are to select only one response. If you select more than one response, your response will be considered wrong.

➤ In the Answer Sheet, Serial Nos from 1 to 100 are printed. Against each number, there are circles marked (a), (b), (c) and (d). After you have read each item in the Test Booklet and decided which one of the given responses is correct or the best, you have to mark your response by completely blackening with BLACK BALL PEN to indicate your response.

➤ For example, if the correct answer to item 1 is (b), then the circle containing the letter (b) is to be completely blackened with black ball pen as shown below.

➤ Candidates must write the papers in their own hand. In no circumstances will they be allowed the help of a scribe.

➤ Please read and abide by the instructions on the cover of Test Booklet. If any candidate indulges in disorderly or improper conduct, he will render himself liable for disciplinary action and/ or imposition of a penalty as the competent authority may deem fit.

➤ Candidates should exercise due care in handling and filling up the answer sheets. They should use BLACK BALL PEN only to darken the circles, for writing in boxes also, they should use BLACK BALL PEN. Since the entries made by the candidates by darkening the circles will be taken into account while evaluating the answer sheets, they should make these entries very carefully and accurately.

➤ Pens with any other colours are prohibited. Do not use Pencil or Ink pen. Candidates should note that any omission/ mistake/ discrepancy in encoding/ filling of details in the OMR answer sheet, especially with regard to Roll Number will render the answer sheet liable for rejection.

CANDIDATES ARE REQUIRED TO APPLY ONLINE AT www.jointterritorialarmy.gov.in ONLY. NO OTHER MODE IS ALLOWED FOR SUBMISSION OF APPLICATION.

FINDING A CAREER IN REGIONAL ...

by the Institute of Banking Personnel Selection (IBPS). Clerical level positions in RRBs have the name of office assistant (multipurpose). Officers positions exist in various scales and are filled through internal promotion process and direct recruitment. In case of officers, direct recruitment is made normally in three scales viz. Scale I, II and III.

Eligibility

For the office assistant (multipurpose) and officers in scale I posts, graduates in all disciplines are eligible. However for officers (scale II) preference is given to degree holders in Agriculture, Horticulture, Forestry, Animal Husbandry, Veterinary Science, Agricultural Engineering, Pisciculture, Agricultural Marketing and Cooperation, Information Technology, Management, Law, Economics or Accountancy. Also required is proficiency in local language as prescribed by the participating RRB. Working knowledge of Computer is desirable. Officers in scale II are known as managers. They should have graduation with minimum 50% marks and should possess experience of two years or more in a bank or financial institution. To become eligible for officers in scale III (senior manager), requirements are same as that for scale II but the experience requirement is of minimum five years. For special-list officers' posts like chartered accountant, information technology officer, marketing officer, treasury manager, minimum one year experience in the relevant field is required. For law officer and agricultural officer in scale II, necessary qualification with minimum two years' experience is prescribed. A candidate has the option to apply both for office assistant and officer's position. However one may apply for the position of officer in only one scale.

Selection Process

There is a preliminary examination for applicants to the posts of office assistant (multipurpose) and officers in scale I. The test for office assistants include reasoning and numerical ability with 40 questions in each section. For scale I the test shall comprise of reasoning and quantitative aptitude each with 40 questions. In both the cases this paper has to be attempted in 45 minutes.

For main examination, candidates who hold higher merit in preliminary examination shall be called in certain number. The main examination will comprise of sections of reasoning, computer knowledge, general awareness and English/Hindi language for both the positions. In addition to this, there will be section of numerical ability for assistants and quantitative aptitude for scale I officers. When it comes to the section of English/Hindi language, a candidate has to choose any one.

Successful candidates in main examination are called for interview. There is no interview for the post of assistants. For others merit shall be determined by adding marks obtained in the main examination and interview.

Test Structure: Except for the language section (English/Hindi), tests for the positions of office assistant (multipurpose) and Officer Scale I is made available in language/s of the particular state in addition to English and Hindi versions.

The preliminary and main examination have tests of –

Quantitative Aptitude: This section is based on numbers and figures. Among other things it will comprise of data interpretation. You may be required to read a graph and then answer multiple questions based on the graph. Also questions relating to profit and loss/discount, partnership, time and work, time and distance, percentage, interest calculation etc. may be asked. Here you need to be good in calculation.

Reasoning: Reasoning section will have questions on seating arrangement, blood relation, sense of direction, order and ranking, coding-decoding, alphabet arrangement/ rearrangement, puzzle, syllogism etc. In the questions of reasoning you've to derive your logic from the stated information and not from the general perception.

Computer Knowledge: Some of the questions in this segment will relate to practical use of computers and some may be general. Expect questions relating to operating systems, open source, MS word, power point, Excel, internet, networking, cybercrimes and information security. Questions on key combinations to achieve certain output may be asked. This section may be prepared with information available on internet and the experience you may have in operating computers.

English/Hindi: Since you've to choose one among the language sections you need to find out which one is easier for you to attempt. Being able to converse in a particular language isn't necessarily going to make the test easier for you. You need to be strong in vocabulary and grammar of the language you choose. Pattern and difficulty level for both the languages is almost similar. Comprehension, spelling mistakes, arrangement/ rearrangement of sentences, fill in the blanks, synonyms, antonyms, word/ sentence meanings etc. will be covered in this section.

General Awareness: Those who have been appearing in competitive examination know that there is no definite syllabus for the general awareness section and to succeed one needs comprehensive preparation.

Questions in this section may relate to important events related to international/national summits/sports competitions/awards etc., noted personalities, authors, sportspersons, and books etc. Questions related capital/currency of foreign countries may also be asked.

Regular reading of national newspaper (online/offline) is required. It is advisable to make diary notes relating to important news. You should also refer to a good year book and at least one general knowledge book.

Numerical Ability: This subject will be included in main examination for the position of office assistant. The section will have questions relating to numbers. You may find questions on addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, percentage, ratio, fraction etc. In most of the cases you'll be required to make multiple operation in a single question. You need to have thorough understanding of arithmetical formulae and BODMAS. For numerical ability your preparation may be based on arithmetic books prescribed for SSC (CBSE/ICSE/state/any other board).

Test for Scale III/II will have section of Financial Awareness also which will include questions related to economy, banking and finance.

Important things to remember

- Applicants to the posts of assistants and scale I officers need to get a high rank to figure in merit list to become eligible to appear in the main examination. The strong preparation for preliminary examination should also help you do well in the main examination for the sections common in both. Afterwards your strong performance in the main examination is required to be called for interview. There is no interview for the position of assistants, so scoring high in the main examination can be instrumental in the final selection.

- Most of the question will be in the format of 'which one is correct' where you'll be required to find the answer which is supposed to be true or correct. But don't take this format as taken for granted as in few question you may have to find the differing or odd element. Such question require extra care in answering.

- You should be fully merged in the test and avoid distractions. Along with accuracy speed is of paramount importance in such tests. In many cases candidates despite being well prepared to attempt the test, are not able to attempt all the questions due to their slow speed in handling the test. Sometimes in the beginning of test candidates approach the paper in a relaxed way and speed up later when they realize that not enough time is left. It is better to be aggressive since the beginning, and not lose out a single second. However this shouldn't come at the cost of accuracy.

- Note that wrong answers have a cost. For every wrong answer one fourth of the mark is deducted. To find the correct answer selection or elimination approach can be used on case to case basis. Selection approach is the one where you know the correct answer and can easily mark that answer. In elimination approach you filter out the wrong answers which appear to be improbable and choose one of the remaining options. In this way you increase the chances of choosing the correct answer.

- Many candidates plan to review their answer before submission of the paper only to later realize that they are not going to find time for that. Review may be thought of in case of one or two questions where you've serious doubts about the accuracy of your answer. Otherwise it'll be better if you mark your options considering these to be final.

- Careful reading of questions is required. Candidates should focus on what exactly is sought in the answer. In every section the nature of questions is obviously different and require differentiated approach to answer. For example format of questions in language section and reasoning will differ significantly.

Need for Strategy

Understanding the pattern of test and questions likely to be asked is the first requirement. For this, previous year's question papers may be referred to. Such question papers are available in preparation guides and few websites. The test pattern will be like previous years. One must assess which are one's strong and weak areas. Weaker areas will require more time for preparation. Somebody good in quantitative aptitude may be weak in reasoning. Try to understand the reasons for your weakness whether it is because you don't understand the concepts or because you've no/less exposure to particular question pattern. Your weak areas may be converted into areas of strengths if you work and practice hard.

For RRB examination, preparation guides covering the test syllabus are available. It may contain mock tests to practice. You need to practice a lot. Review/evaluate your performance including speed. Mock test papers are also available in practice booklets. Since the examination is conducted online one should be good in using key board and mouse.

By making internet search it is possible to find inputs helpful for banking examinations including the RRB examination. You may find explanation of test pattern, test analysis, mock questions, sample test papers and hints for preparation. Be discreet in your search, access only authentic websites and avoid sharing your personal data unnecessarily to keep away from fraudsters.

If you want limited mobility and move within few districts in a particular state, RRBs are good for long term career. Working experience in RRBs may help you to find further career opportunities in banking and finance.

FOR ISSUE DATED 4-10 JUNE 2022

Question: World Environment Day is a vehicle for encouraging awareness and action for the protection of the environment. The fast fashion industry is one of the largest carbon polluters and one of the greatest producers of waste for which environmentalists have raised concerns, the world over. To counter it, slow fashion is garnering more attention. Let us know how sustainably you use your clothes. It can be anything from second-hand clothes or turning your shirt into a dusting cloth.

YASHI RANJAN
MAHARASHTRA

Environment denotes the surroundings and conditions in which a human, animal or plant lives and grows. Our Earth makes one such environment. On 5 June, we celebrated 50th International World Environment Day with the theme 'Only One Earth'. Observing this day started in 1972 by the United Nations General Assembly after the Stockholm Conference. The idea was to draw attention to the many problems our environment was facing like waste disposal, rapid population growth, deforestation, loss of biodiversity and multiple forms of pollution among others which are still relevant. Today I am going to narrow down my focus on the 'Fast Fashion Industry' which is one of the largest carbon polluters and one of the greatest producers of waste. Fast fashion is a term used to describe the clothing industry of replicating trends and high fashion designs and mass producing them at affordable prices but because these are not made to last long and quickly go out of style, these are discarded in a short span of time, piling up in landfills. Being conscious of this my family has made an informed decision to purchase clothes made of khadi and brands that support sustainable fashion, so that it would last longer and have a lesser carbon footprint. Last summer when my maternal grandmother was with us she helped me sew a pillowcase out of my old T-shirt and my old red frock's fabric was turned into a stylish tote bag which is now used to carry vegetables and groceries. During the lockdown my sister and I sew a quilt using different colours and pieces of fabrics which we use it as a duster now. Mom's old scarf is turned into a dust cover. We are putting the best foot forward so that nature doesn't get the cold shoulder. Each of one need to take the initiative as there's no Planet B but 'Only One Earth'.

		Organisation/Department of the Central Government, shall ordinarily not exceed three years. The maximum age limit for appointment by deputation/contract shall be not exceeding 56 years as on the closing date of receipt of application.
(e)	Job requirements	To assist Adviser (Power) in preparation of plans and examination of schemes for power development (both generation and transmission) in the North Eastern Region. To collect information and monitor progress on the on-going schemes in the region by obtaining timely reports, to undertake field visits, to check the estimates of projects/ schemes and to ensure maintenance of proper follow up action on all such schemes. To assist NEC Secretariat in the preparation of plans for tapping alternative and renewable sources of energy.

Note: The candidates who applied for the post would not be allowed to withdraw their candidature subsequently.
