MEDICAL TOURISM TAKING INDIA'S HEALING TOUCH TO THE WORLD

Shri Avinash Mishra
Madhubanti Dutta
India has established a rock-solid foothold as the 'Global Medical Destination' by attracting the entire world's attention and trust on its high-end healthcare ecosystem and world-class medical facilities. The integral philosophy of Indian hospitality is 'Atithi Devo Bhava' (guest is akin to God). With this in mind, Indians believe in going out of the way in treating their guests with the same reverence as God.

What is Medical Tourism?
The term 'medical tourism' refers to planned international travel to receive cutting-edge medical care. Medical tourists cross international borders to maintain, enhance, or restore their health by utilizing affordable healthcare services and procedures available in other countries. Medical tourism's primary benefits include improved healthcare, ground-breaking medications, sophisticated technologies, improved hospitality, and personalized treatment.

India's Position on Medical Tourism Map
Medical tourism is one of India's fastest-growing industries, which has experienced exponential growth in recent years, and is predicted to have substantial growth in the years to come. India is the ideal destination for medical value tourism because India offers a distinct amalgamation of a holistic health and wellness ecosystem and its myriad opportunities. India is currently ranked 12th in terms of inbound medical tourism spending, which is a result of the country's strong and supportive government policies, which include the adoption of 'Medical Visa' and focused marketing campaigns. To make traveling smoother for medical tourists, a new category of 'Medical Visa' has been introduced as part of a policy that the Indian Ministry of Tourism has developed to encourage tourists seeking to come to India for medical counseling and treatment. At the moment, visitors can fill an online application form, pay the requisite fee online, and get a digital copy of their Medical e-Visa.

The following figure represents the number of Foreign Tourist Arrivals (FTAs) in India on Medical Visa which has shown a growth of around 41% from 2017 (4.95 lakhs) to 2019 (6.95 lakhs). As the figure reflects, in 2020 (1.83 lakhs), the footfalls of foreign tourists reduced significantly, mainly due to the pandemic. Subsequently, in 2021 (3.04 lakhs), the footfalls again started increasing for medical purposes in India.

According to the Bureau of Immigration, Govt. of India, the top countries from where foreign tourists arrived in India for medical purposes in 2020 include Iraq (93.4%), Maldives (76.1%), Yemen (69.9%), Nigeria (53.1%), Afghanistan (34%), Sudan (30.3%) and Oman (28%).

Who is a Tourist Facilitator?
A tourist facilitator is the most important touch point for the visitor, with the satisfaction of the visitor directly related to the quality of immersion in the local experience. As tourism around the world gets competitive, destinations need to differentiate themselves on the basis of their distinct personalities and their ability to create a positive image in the minds of customers and prospective visitors to the country. The success, therefore, largely depends upon the competence of the person mediating the experience for the visitor and this role is invariably played by the tourist facilitator. Tourist facilitators are essentially interpreters of a place/event/experience. Their job is both delightful and challenging. A tourist facilitator is tasked with making tourist spots appealing, explaining intricate stories of history, mythology, culture, nature, cuisine, art, etc., eliciting interest and awe in the visitor about the country. S/he has to uphold the cultural traditions and heritage of the place being visited and also talk of social customs, heritage, myths and even local folklore.

India's Competitive Edge

India offers various advantages in the field of medical tourism but the most important ones are as follows:

- India is a popular destination that offers various tourist medical tourism sector. This allows our medical workforce to travel the globe and contribute to a healthy global society. India is committed to developing its traditional medicine sector and document on medical tourism focuses on the following key points: (i) Develop a brand for India as a wellness destination (ii) Strengthen the ecosystem for medical and wellness tourism (iii) Enable digitalization by setting up an Online Medical Value Travel (MVT) portal (iv) Enhancement of accessibility for Medical Value

Tourism Market

India has a long and illustrious medical history dating back to the Vedic era. Ayurveda, one of the earliest systems of medicine, may be traced back to 8000 BCE. Numerous medical specialties have emerged, including Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha, Sowa-Rigpa, and Homoeopathy. Yoga and meditation have also grown in prominence and are now well recognized for their positive effects on health. India has developed a distinctive ecosystem for holistic health that blends the finest of contemporary healthcare, alternative medicine, and wellness in the wake of its independence as the country has advanced dramatically in modern medicine.

Over the past few decades, new healthcare service production and consumption patterns have emerged due to the expansion of international trade in medical technology, capital funding, and regulatory frameworks. The medical systems practiced in India, including Ayurveda, Yoga, Panchakarma, Rejuvenation Therapy, etc., are some of the oldest in the world. India can offer affordable, high-end medical and health services. The primary purpose is achieving, promoting, or maintaining good health and a sense of well-being. Kerala, one of the Southern Indian states, has established stellar health and healing facilities as significant products to promote tourism. Ayurvedic Centers are becoming a common feature of new-generation hotels and resorts. Most international visitors now solely travel to India for Ayurvedic treatment and combined with Western medical knowledge is becoming more and more attractive compared to Western tourism destinations.

On the government's recommendation, the Indian Healthcare Federation, a non-profit organization affiliated to the Confederation of Indian Industry (CII), has created a guide on specific Indian hospitals nationwide for 'health tourism' purposes. For further promotion, it has been posted on the Ministry of Tourism's website, www.incredibleindia.org. The Ministry of Tourism has created brochures, CDs, and other publicity materials to promote medical and health tourism, and these items have been widely distributed for exposure in target areas. Medical and health tourism has been primarily marketed at numerous international venues, like World Travel Mart in London and ITP Berlin. All State Governments have received a copy of the accreditation standards for Ayurvedic and Panchkarma centers for implementation. For more exposure, these have been posted on the Ministry of Tourism website, www.incredibleindia.org.

Under the 'Incredible India Campaign' of the Ministry of Tourism, Yoga, Ayurveda, and Wellness have been promoted during the past two years in print, electronic, online, and outdoor media. The Indian Healthcare Federation, brings together pharmaceutical, medical equipment, and non-government hospitals and diagnostic facilities. The Federation's primary goal is to support and advance the nation's healthcare business. It aims to serve as a conduit for communication between the government, healthcare providers, suppliers of medical equipment, and other healthcare organizations.

India is ranked third among the top 10 nations in the Asia Pacific for health, making it essential in Medical Value Tourism (MVT). Medical Value Tourism from an Indian perspective offers comprehensive health and welfare and spreads the richness of attractions, historical landmarks, pilgrimage sites, fine handicrafts, unique fairs and exhibitions in different regions. As a result, there are always possibilities of combining pleasure and recreation with medical rejuvenation.

- The main criteria that travelers seek in medical tourism is 'more for less', i.e., they seek high-end medical facilities at affordable rates. There is a common perception that as compared to many wealthy countries, India provides value for money to medical tourists.
- India is one of the world's fastest-growing hubs for information technology (IT). IT has become the backbone of the healthcare industry. Hence, the IT boom has triggered demand and accessibility, thus, boosting medical tourism.
- The initiatives undertaken by the public and private sectors offer a variety of services, including easy and smooth accessibility to Medical Visas, frequent flights and other modes of domestic transportation systems to travel to and fro, affordable tour packages tailored to travelers' needs, more accessibility to the internet and other communication facilities, availability of certified drugs and medicines within easy reach, adding to the advantage in medical tourism.

Government Initiatives to Boost Medical Tourism

- 'Heal in India' & 'Heal by India': The Hon'ble Prime Minister has an optimistic vision for the country's potential to become a global center for medical tourism, serving and saving millions of lives every year. promoting the 'Heal in India' and 'Heal by India' initiatives to become a global hub for medical value.

Millets, considered as Superfood, play a crucial role in dealing with the nutritional requirements of a large number of people. With the Government giving thrust on increasing production of millets through various schemes and supporting entrepreneurship and the UN celebrating the International Year of Millets in 2023, India is poised to play a key role in expanding millets' value chain at the domestic as well as global level.

Millets were considered ancient food grains and first plants domesticated for food. They are grown in more than 130 countries and are traditional food for 59 crore people in Asia and Africa. Millets are a rich source of vitamins, minerals and dietary fibres. According to the Food and Agriculture Organisation (FAO) of the United Nations, millets are a collective group of small seeded annual grasses that are grown as grain crops, primarily on marginal land in dry areas of temperate, subtropical and tropical regions.

In India, millets are mostly grown in Maharashtra, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Rajasthan, Uttar Pradesh, Gujarat and Haryana. The millet production in the country has increased from 17.26 million tonnes (MT) during 2019-20 to 18.02 MT in 2020-21. India has 80% and 40% share in production of millets in Asia and the world respectively.

Main varieties of millets grown in India include:

- Pearl millet (Bajra)
- Sorghum (Jowar)
- Finger millet (Ragi)
- Small millet (Kutki)
- Foxtail millet (Kangani/ Kakun)
- Barnyard millet (Sawa/ Sanwa/Jhangora)
- Kodo millet

According to the Agriculture Ministry, Bajra accounts for 61% of the total millet production in the country, Jowar - 27%, and Ragi - 10%, the other millets make for the remaining 2 %.

Gol's Initiatives for Promoting Millets

In a major boost to production and exports of nutriceals like millet, Finance Minister Smt. Nirmala Sitharaman, in her Union Budget (2022-23) speech, announced assistance for post-harvest value addition and branding of millet products in the domestic as well as global markets. She proposed a policy push for branding of Indian millets, key ingredients in the breakfast cereals, biscuits and healthy snack segments.

Celebrating 2023 as International Year of Millets: In 2021, the Government of India put forth a proposal before the United Nations (UN) for declaring 2023 as International Year of Millets (IYOM). India's proposal was accepted with 72 countries in support. Preparations are on in full swing to celebrate 2023 as the Inter-national Year of Millets by promoting Indian millets, recipes, and value added products at the global level. The campaign aims at promoting the health benefits of millets and their suitability under the changing climatic conditions globally. By doing so, it is expected that the demand for millets will grow exponentially in many countries.

Declaring Millets as Nutri-Cereals: Earlier, the Government of India celebrated 2018 as the National Year of Millets and declared millets as Nutri-Cereals under the National Food Security

Mission (NFSM). To boost millet production, the NFSM-Nutri Cereals is being implemented in 212 districts across 14 states. Under the initiative, assistance is given through State Governments to farmers for interventions such as cluster demonstrations on Package of Practices (PoP), demonstrations on cropping system, distribution of high yielding varieties of seeds, improved farm machineries, efficient water application tools, plant protection measures, nutrient management, processing and post-harvest equipments, cropping system based trainings to the farmers etc. The states are also encouraged to promote cultivation of millets under Rashtriya Krishi Vikas Yojana - Remunerative Approaches for Agriculture & Allied sector Rejuvenation (RKVY-RAFTAAR) with the approval of the state level sanctioning committee constituted under the chairman-ship of the Chief Secretary of the concerned state.

Millets in POSHAN: Meanwhile, the Government of India has urged States and UTs to use millets under the Pradhan Mantri Poshan Shakti Nirman (PM POSHAN) while providing one hot cooked meal in Government and Government-aided schools during 2021-22 to 2025-26.

Promoting StartUps: According to Agriculture Ministry data, currently there are over 500 Startups associated with the millet value chain while the Indian Institute on Millet Research, Hyderabad has incubated 250 Startups under RKVY-RAFTAAR. More than Rs 6.2 crores has been disbursed to over 66 Startups while about 25 Startups have been approved for further funding.

Financing R&D: Finance Minister Smt Nirmala Sitharaman recently announced providing Rs 25 crore fund under the NABARD's rural infrastructure development fund to University of Agricultural Science (UAS), Raichur, Karnataka for establishment of incubation centre for processing and value addition for promotion of millets. "This fund will be used for creating facilities focussed on research, setting up of laboratories and support to farmers by the UAS," Sitharaman had said at Millet Conclave 2022 at Raichur, Karnataka.

Encouraging Innovation: Finance Minister Smt Nirmala Sitharaman recently informed that Niti Aayog will soon announce a 'Millet Challenge' for the start-ups to design and develop innovative solutions for the value chains. She said that by December, three winners of the start-ups will be announced and they will receive Rs 1 crore each. Besides, 15 participants for the 'Millet Challenge' will receive Rs 20 lakh each and another 15 participants will receive Rs 10 lakh each besides the handholding support.

PM Modi on Millets

With India gearing up with a host of activities to bring millets on the global food map, recently Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi urged farmers to adopt these nutritious coarse grains as their preferred choice of crops and get benefit from it. He also highlighted its health benefits and flagged millets' role in fighting malnutrition. On the health benefits of millets, the PM said millets contain plenty of protein fibre and minerals. Along with reducing obesity, they also reduce the risk of diabetes, hypertension and heart related diseases. Millets are also very beneficial in fighting malnutrition, since they are packed with energy as well as protein. "India is the largest producer of millets in the world. Hence the responsibility of making this initiative a success also rests on the shoulders of us Indians," PM Shri Narendra Modi said during his radio broadcast, 'Mann Ki Baat.'

Urging the farmers to opt for its cultivation, the Prime Minister sought to explain how beneficial millets are for them, especially the small farmers, saying millet crops not only get ready in a very short time but also require less water. Besides, millet hay is also considered the best fodder, he stated.

Global Demand for Millets

According to the Department of Commerce, with the demand for Nutri-Cereals rising steadily globally, millet exports should increase exponentially in the coming years as Indian exporters find new markets abroad. Currently, India is the fifth largest exporter of millets in the world, according to 2020 data, with exports continuously increasing at around 3% Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR), in the last five years ending with 2020. In 2020-21, India exported millets worth USD 26.97 million against USD 28.5 million in 2019-20.

The Agricultural and Pro-cessed Food Products Export Development Authority (APEDA), under the Commerce Ministry has been aggressively working towards facilitating shipments of millets by Indian exporters and helping them make inroads into new markets. To give impetus to the export of potential products as well as to remove the bottlenecks in the supply chain of nutriceals, APEDA has created the Nutri-Cereals Export Promotion Forum which also includes millet exports. It has also organized a sensitization programme for millet start-ups to familiarize them about export opportunities. APEDA has signed an MOU with Indian Institute of Millets Research (IIMR), for making a strategy for promotion of millets and millet value added products.

Given that millets are highly adaptive to a wide range of climatic conditions and are less water intensive, farmers have been gradually adopting millet cultivation which can provide sustainable income in the long run. The transformative role of millets in tackling lifestyle diseases, the benefits of mainstreaming millets in public-funded programs and the growing realization of huge potential for export markets, and projecting these crops as immunity boosters owing to their rich nutritional profile, has given the much needed push to the millet value chain.

Geographical Indication

Organised by Export Promotion Council for Handicrafts (EPCH) with the support of the Ministry of Commerce & Industry and Ministry of Textiles, the India GI Fair 2022 was held from August 26-28, 2022.

India GI Fair is the first and only trade platform of its kind to source inimitable products from across India under one roof. This fair was aimed to broaden the people's horizons with unique products as well as crafts where they could see, and at the same time source India's best nurtured treasures, traditions and rarities. This expo brought together exhibitors of distinctive products with an ambition to take these Indian masterpieces to the connoisseurs and clientele of the world market.

GI products of India are sought after for their unique characteristics appealing to any or all senses. From edibles and savouries to wearables, giftables, and collectibles, the produce/product variety is diverse, known for their rare natural properties, peculiarities, age-old processes or tradition. Just as modern production techniques measure up to feed the volume demand, there is an urge in the discerning consumer to seek rare, authentic and original products which have inimitable history and tradition linked to them, that is, the GI-tagged products.

What is a GI?

A Geographical Indication (GI) is a sign/tag used on products that have a specific geographical origin and possess qualities or a reputation that are due to that origin. The GI-tagged products are "Invaluable treasures of Incredible India".

As of date, there are 390+ Geographical Indications of India of which 200+ are Handicraft & Handloom products. Darjeeling Tea was the first Indian product to get the GI tag.

The aim is to build confidence amongst the buying community. Since the qualities depend on the geographical place of production, there is a clear link between the product and its original place of production.

In order to function as a GI, a sign/tag must identify a product as originating from such specific recognized place/ region. Protection for a geographical indication is usually obtained by acquiring a right over the sign that constitutes the indication and does not enable the holder to prevent someone from making a product using the same techniques as those set out in the standards for that indication. India, as a member of the World Trade Organization (WTO), enacted the Geographical Indications of Goods (Registration & Protection) Act, 1999, that came into force with effect from 15th September, 2003.

What rights does a GI provide?

Rural artisans in various regions of India possess unique skill sets, one that is passed down from generation to generation and hence bears generational legacy. The GI in India are thus tightly interwoven into the rural milieu. Registration of Geographical Indications encourages these communities and ensures protection of their Intellectual Property (IP) rights.

The Geographical Indications of Goods (Registration and Protection) Act, 1999 (the Act) provides for registration of

Some of India's GI-tagged Products

EN EXPLAINS

Handicrafts (& Handlooms) as Geographical Indications (GI). Handicraft (& Handlooms) is covered under Section 2(f) of the Act which states that "goods" means any agricultural, natural or manufactured goods or any goods of handicraft (& Handlooms) or of industry and includes food stuff. Handicraft artisans & weavers can be registered as Authorized Users for the registered Geographical Indications as provided under Section 7(3) read with Section 17 of the Act. The Act provides that any person claiming to be the producer of the goods standards for that indication. Protection for a Geographical Indication is usually obtained by acquiring a right over the sign that constitutes the indication.

Who can apply for the registration of a GI?

Any association of persons, producers, organisation or authority established by or under the law can apply.

Who is a registered proprietor of a GI?

Any association of persons, producers, organisation or authority established by or under the law can be a registered proprietor. Their name should be entered in the Register of Geographical Indication as registered proprietor for the Geographical Indication applied for.

How long the registration of GI is valid?

The registration of a GI is valid for a period of 10 years. It can be renewed from time to time for further period of 10 years each. If a registered GI is not renewed, it is liable to be removed from the register.

When is a registered GI said to be infringed?

- When an unauthorised user uses a GI that indicates or suggests that such goods originate in a geographical area other than the true place of origin of such goods in a manner which mislead the public as to the geographical origin of such goods.
- When the use of GI result in an unfair competition including passing off in respect of registered Geographical Indication.
- When the use of another GI results in false representation to the public that goods originate in a territory in respect of which a registered Geographical Indication relates.

How is a GI different from a trade mark?

A trade mark is a sign which is used in the course of trade and it distinguishes goods or services of one enterprise from those of other enterprises. Whereas, a GI is an indication used to identify goods

in respect of which a Geographical Indication has been registered under Section 6 may apply in writing to the Registrar in the prescribed manner for registering him as an authorized user of such Geographical Indication.

A geographical indication right enables those who have the right to use the indication to prevent its use by a third party whose product does not conform to the applicable standards. For example, in the jurisdictions in which the Darjeeling Geographical Indication is protected, producers of Darjeeling tea can exclude use of the term "Darjeeling" for tea not grown in their tea gardens or not produced according to the standards set out in the code of practice for the geographical indication. However, a protected Geographical Indication does not enable the holder to prevent someone from making a product using the same techniques as those set out in the

ISSUE DATED 3 - 9 September 2022

Question: September 5th, the birth anniversary of former President Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, is celebrated as the Teachers' Day in India. Who do you consider the best teacher of your life and why?

HEMANT KUMAR

This is about my teacher Mr. Ramesh who was our teacher of Economics in class 12th in 2009 - 10. Mr. Ramesh joined in the month of December when the pressure of pre - board exam was too high. At that point of time, some of the students were not doing well in his subject and I was one of them, The day he joined, he did not ask the usual questions like, have you prepared enough notes or which books do you study for board exam. He simply asked what are your objectives, why did you choose commerce, what things around you are perceived as a problems in context of economics. These questions changed the mindset of mine and when I looked into the answers of these questions, it was really very insightful and I was able to relate the content of books with the real time events happening around the globe at micro and macro level in context of economics. He helped us a lot in understanding the graphs and how to prepare them. This is how we learned to gain and rephrase knowledge rather than cramming and plagiarizing the content. I scored good marks in economics at board exam and the knowledge I have gained is fresh forever. Ramesh sir used to tell us "change your vision and the scenario will change". Thus a good teacher can transform you by right guidance.

MEDICAL TOURISM TAKING INDIA'S ...

Indian hospitality via the merging essence of its food, nature, and culture. Remarkably, India may be the only nation with a whole Ministry devoted to complementary medicine, anti-aging treatments, and Yoga. A deliberate effort is being made to move the world's population away from the cycle of illness and treatment and toward a lifestyle of preventative and holistic health, including mental, bodily, and spiritual well-being. MVT is founded on a knowledge of the behavior of the 21st-century citizen when seeking health, as opposed to healthcare. Ayurveda, Yoga, and meditation remain today's timeless pillars of Indian wellness tourism. Significant attempts are being made to revitalize and promote alternative remedies and stress-relieving and rejuvenation therapies.

The Way Forward

A new paradigm in the healthcare industry allows the government to act as a facilitator with sensible trade laws to guarantee a seamless value chain. Policymakers must concentrate on Indian healthcare establishments that welcome medical tourists from under-developed nations who come for skillful operations, with cost and surgical competency of utmost importance. The administrative authorities need to start training programs to develop their capacity in the medical tourism industry. By expanding their healthcare services internationally, private hospitals can collaborate with foreign embassies to influence policy and attract financially supported medical tourists. India has a diverse portfolio of niche tourism products - cruises, adventure, medical, wellness, sports, MICE (Meetings, Incentives, Conferences and Exhibitions), eco-tourism, films, rural and religious tourism.

It is significant to emphasize that Medical Value Tourism encompasses many other therapeutic methods, such as yoga and spiritual retreats, and is not just for wellbeing. For these particular getaways, many tourists from different countries travel to India. Several places in India, including Uttarakhand, Kerala, Maharashtra, Goa, and Karnataka, already provide Yoga, meditation, and health retreats. With the Ayush Visa set to be implemented in the coming days, India may anticipate an increase in foreign travelers, moving towards new Medical Value Travel locations.

The government is improving medical tourism through exhibitions, trade fairs, and affiliations with international organizations. When hospital management is directly involved in promoting services globally, in that case, there will be little room for further doubt in the minds of prospective medical professionals, and the healthcare sectors will prosper effectively. The varying roles that stakeholders have played over the years have resulted in significant changes in medical tourism. The increased competition has attracted a variety of additional players to the industry. Policymakers, the local community, and other private players have primarily contributed to the internationalization of Indian healthcare systems. The process of creating capacity can be improved by becoming more proficient at providing healthcare services and having a less complicated healthcare network. Quality and standard assurance are vital criteria for evaluating medical institutes' potential for success.
